

Composite released of suspect wanted in attack on Norval woman

Halton Police have released a composite of one of three suspects in the late night attack of a Mississauga woman on Winston Churchill Blvd. in Norval Saturday, July 23.

Officers will be circulating flyers containing the composite in the hope of learning more in the case.

The 19-year-old woman was walking southbound on Winston Churchill Blvd. in the area of 10 Sideroad after leaving Nashville North about 11:30 p.m. when she was approached by three males who made sexual demands and grabbed her by the back of the dress, ripping it as she escaped their grasp. The woman lost her purse and cell phone during the brief struggle and ran south on Winston Churchill Blvd. where she was assisted by a passing motorist who called police.

This person depicted in the composite is described as male, white, very tall 6'3" to 6'6", with a skinny build. He was wearing a solid red toque and dark clothing.

The other suspects are described as

- Male, 5'6", possibly dark skinned, late teens to early 20s wearing a dark hoodie and dark clothing
- The other suspect wasn't seen by the victim but was heard. The voice is described as male and youthful.

Anyone with information about the suspect(s) in the incident is asked to call Detective Constable Christina Einboden of the Child Abuse and Sexual Assault (CASA) Bureau of the Halton Regional Police Service at (905) 878-5511 ext. 8972 or Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS (8477).

HEARING SCIENCES

Audiology and Hearing Aid Centre

We hear with our brain!

The ears are just one small part of the hearing system. It is the brain that actually processes the sound that the ear receives. As we age, the filtering ability of the brain begins to diminish making it more difficult to hear in a background of noise and to understand when speech is spoken at a rapid rate or with an accent. Research at the University of Maryland has confirmed that seeing a person who is speaking helps the brain process words faster and more accurately. Three important strategies to assist people in hearing better are: Speak slower, speak clearly and face the listener. If you are having difficulty, book a hearing test. Hearing aids give your brain dramatic assistance in sorting out speech and makes listening less of a daily struggle. Book a hearing test and start the journey to better hearing.
