

Plaque recognizes Armenian boys' history

The history of the Armenian Boys' Farm Home was recognized recently with the installation of a plaque mounted on a post outside Cedarvale Community Centre. The inscription outlines a brief history of the property from when it was a farm for Armenian boys during the 1920s. Created by the Ontario Heritage Trust and the Armenian Community Centre, the plaque was unveiled in Toronto the day before it was installed in the park. On hand to install the plaque were (from left) Sam Wesley, co-ordinator, Plaque Programs, Ontario Heritage Trust; Pat Farley, Heritage Halton Hills committee member; Halton Hills Ward 3 Councillor and chair of Heritage Halton Hills Moya Johnson, and Ward 3 Councillor Dave Kentner.
