let us know where we stand on your list of hospital infrastructure priorities or when we might expect to receive your go-ahead."

With an election coming Arnott said the Liberals are finally listening.

"That's why, when it comes to the future of our local health care services, now is the time for one final push."

"When are you coming to Georgetown to make this announcement?" asked Arnott in his letter to Matthews.

Wellington-Halton Hills provincial Liberal candidate Moya Johnson, also a Halton Hills Ward 3 councillor, said she has been in contact with the Minister's office, as late as today (Wednesday) requesting a meeting on the issue.

"They're trying to set up a meeting as soon as possible because they understand it's an important issue for this riding," said Johnson. She said her main motivation for running for the provincial position was to "try to achieve the funding for this hospital."

Halton Hills Mayor Rick Bonnette who has also been advocating for provincial funding for the hospital said he hasn't heard anything from the Minister on the issue. She has also failed to accept his invitation to visit the hospital.

Bonnette did say though that he and councillors will be meeting with Matthews at the Association of Municipalities of Ontario conference Tuesday where he intends to bring up the issue and extend the invitation to visit the hospital again.

Acton woman wins $100,000 lottery prize

Janice Newman of Acton is one step closer to claiming her lottery win of $100,000 from the ENCORE draw on Canada Day, July 1.

Newman's winning ticket was a gift from a friend, purchased at Royal Jug City on Queen St. in Acton. As the purchaser's daughter is an employee at an OLG retail location, this prize falls within OLG's definition of an Insider Win.

As of today's date, this prize claim has completed the first step of a two-step Insider Wins process, which is an independent investigation of the claim by a third-party working in partnership with OLG's regulator the Alcohol and Gaming Commission of Ontario (AGCO).

To complete the prize claim, the prize will be held for a 30-day waiting period as part of OLG's Insider Wins process, in order for OLG to publicize the win. If there are no additional claims on this prize, it will be paid to the claimant on September 17, 2011 based on this 30-day wait period.
