Hot wheels (literally) at Rock'n Roll'n Classics Show

The 12th annual Rock'n Roll'n Classics car show drew hundreds of car enthusiasts to Main Street in Georgetown Friday and Halton Hills firefighter Brian Babcock managed to snap the scene from the aerial truck (left). Firefighters were also called into action at 6 p.m. when a 1956 Cadillac, owned by Ross Brigden (above) sustained serious damage to the engine compartment after catching fire. The blaze was extinguished with portable fire extinguishers prior to the arrival of firefighters. There was no immediate estimate of damage to the vehicle.

Minister won't commit to hospital funding

By LISA TALLYN
Staff Writer

Minister of Health and Long-Term Care Deb Matthews didn't commit to providing any funding to the Georgetown Hospital renovation in either a letter sent to Mayor Rick Bonnette last week or a face-to-face meeting yesterday (Monday).

day (Monday).

In Monday's meeting she told Bonnette "we are looking at your proposal very carefully as well as many other hospital projects.

"What I can tell you is your proposal is still alive," she said.

In the letter received by Bonnette Wednesday afternoon to a letter he had sent to Matthews earlier requesting the Province kick in nearly $1.9 million to the hospital project, she said, "the Ministry is currently reviewing the proposal and I'm confident it will be given due consideration."

Halton Healthcare Services wants to spend $12.19 million to renovate
