IN MEMORIAM

DEFOREST, Harold
August 31st, 2005
Time is but a slow passage to the stars and to our final destiny
Your time dad ended suddenly and we had to let you be
To walk away and leave you behind
Was the hardest thing to do and something I could not rewind
So now when I look up at the stars at night
And they are ever oh so bright
I want to believe deep down in my heart
That you are creating that work of art
If only you could spell out some words to me
Because you know I would definitely see
For I do look up each and every night
To view this amazing and wondrous sight.
DEEPLY MISSED.
*Forever in our hearts
Love Doug, Christine,
Granddaughter Tasha and Great-Granddaughter Harley*

BECKETT
In loving memory of
Barbara Jean Beckett (Lyness)
who passed away on August 30th, 1989
You can't pluck a rose all fragrant with dew,
Without part of its fragrance remaining with you.
Sadly missed by the Beckett family

DEFOREST, Harold
August 31st, 2005
God may have taken you away,
But we'll be together again one day.
*Your loving wife Rosie,

FOR CLASSIFIED CALL KRISTIE 905-873-0301

When asked to name our favorite restaurant, cafe, or shop, we almost always cite a unique local business (look at the results in our Readers' Choice as proof). We embrace the idea of distinctive businesses with local character, but often forget their survival depends on our patronage. It is easy for us to get so consumed by efficiency that we forget how much of our lives we spend eating out, shopping, and doing other business. We owe it to ourselves to consider the quality of our experience, and ask if we benefit when we choose a community-based business. Local owners with much of their life savings invested in their businesses have a natural interest in the long-term health of the community. Community-based businesses are essential to charitable endeavors, frequently serving on local boards, and supporting a variety of causes. Yes, there are some corporate chains that give back to towns in which they do business, but anyone who raises funds for local non-profits will tell you that independents are their base of support. So... support your neighbors... support our community, shop smart... shop our local stores!
