

Georgetown Children's Chorus to represent Ontario in Ottawa

What a season the Georgetown Children's Chorus has planned! The highlight will be performing in Ottawa for four days during the 2012 Canada Day celebrations.

The choir, conducted by Dale Wood for the past 20 years, was chosen to represent Ontario in a choir featuring singers from across Canada.

Choir members, nine and up, are eligible to participate and leaders expect that 50 kids ages 9 to 18 will participate. They will be giving a concert at the Parliament buildings on June 29 and 30 and will sing in three performances on July 1st at the National Arts Centre. In between concerts, choir members will attend Canada Day festivities on Parliament hill and tour national sites.

"The invitation is perfect for this year," says choir President, Sharon English, "since our Spring concert theme is O Canada, a compilation of songs from across Canada."

The Children's Chorus was formed in 1992 by Dale Wood and Lois Fraser and the group has travelled across Canada and in Europe.

The choir, which offers several age groups from the Cherubs (ages 5 and 6) leading up to its Senior Choir members who perform in five-part harmony (ages 12 to 18), is a great place to learn to read music and make friends.

All singers are welcome to join and the best part is that this experience is affordable for all kids, with a $150 membership fee for the year (subsidies available).

Georgetown woman to star in Shirley Valentine

Shirley Valentine, the award-winning comedy by Willy Russell, plays at Century Church Theatre, Hillsburgh, for one week only, September 14-18.

Also an Oscar-winning movie, the play engages the audience in Shirley's reminiscences of her school, her marriage, her children, her humdrum daily routine, and her need to change her life. Inside Mrs. Joe Bradshaw, 42-year-old wife and mother, is the former Shirley Valentine, longing to get out. She is neither supported nor appreciated by those around her, and in dedicating herself to her husband and children she has lost herself along the way.

Shirley knows that she has to make a change. How she does so is brilliantly revealed with rollicking humour, sympathy and warm insight.
