Walk, health fair to focus on education, disease prevention

On Oct 23, the first ever Walk for Education and Prevention of Disease will be held in Halton Hills. Hosted by Walk This Way, it's a 5km walk and health fair.

Walk this Way is a non-profit organization dedicated to the promotion and education of natural health practices aimed at the prevention of disease and the restoration of optimal health for all.

All participants gain free entry to the Health Fair and lecture with guest speakers Tosca Reno and Dr. Brian Clement Reno is the author of the "Eat Clean" series. She shares the challenges she's faced and will reveal her secrets to success. Having overcome the trials of weight loss, motherhood, and career growth at a later stage in life, Reno shows you how to achieve lasting happiness no matter what your age.

Reno is 50 years old, written 12 + Eat Clean Diet Success Books, been on the cover of Oxygen magazine eight times and has recently been seen on the Oprah channel.

Dr. Brian Clement is owner and educator at The Hippocrates Health Institute where the philosophy is dedicated to the belief that a pure enzyme-rich diet, complemented by positive thinking and non-invasive therapies, are essential elements on the path to optimum health. Dr. Clement travels the world educating people on proper diet and the reason so many are sick and tired of being sick and tired.

There will be prizes for the first 100 to register for the Walk—prizes for the person and team that raises the most money, and raffles for huge healthy gift baskets. Register at www.walkthisway.org.ca
