shelves at local food banks. However the Scouts are probably best known for Apple Day, where the kids go out into the community to sell fresh apples in an effort to raise money for their troops.

Beyond the camping and the community involvement, scouting, at its very core, is all about the people.

"The biggest thing is to come out and have some fun and learn about yourself," says Reinhardt.

For Henderson, it's all about the friendships.

"I make a new bunch of friends every year. I don't know the kids or the parents when they sign up for Cubs or Beavers but I get to know them," he says. "Twenty-five or 30 years later, I see them and say, 'Hi, I remember you. You were that rotten little kid that was puking at camp!'"

A GOOD REASON TO SHOP LOCAL

This message brought to

#2. Shopping local saves you money. Out of town shops have done a good job of convincing us all that sole traders = expensive, but the evidence just isn't there to back this up. If you add in travel, parking costs, fees to transport larger items home and your time, the overall cost is often much higher.
