

'The Play' commemorated

Former New York Mets' and Toronto Blue Jays' outfielder Mookie Wilson (left) and Halton Hills resident Paul Cartwright, owner of Sports Celebrity Marketing, teamed up recently with ex-Boston Red Sox first baseman Bill Buckner to commission a painting to commemorate the 25th anniversary of one of the most famous plays in baseball history. Wilson's slow grounder to first in the 10th inning of Game 6 of the '86 World Series rolled through Buckner's legs and the Mets went on to claim the title. Cartwright, whose firm represents hundreds of former athletes, providing a variety of services such as personal appearances and endorsements, attended a press conference in New York to unveil the painting. The original painting by Toronto sports artist Rob MacDougall will be displayed in the Mets' Hall of Fame & Museum. Prints of "The Play" can be purchased by visiting www.theplay86ws.com.
