Bergsma's

Yvonne Bergsma began working for her family's business at a young age. "As soon as I was strong enough to carry a gallon of paint, I was going to the store on Saturdays and after school to help out in the store," recalls Bergsma. Yvonne's father has since retired, and Yvonne now runs the business, continuing on the core values taught to her by her dad.

"We are constantly looking for new products to bring to our customers, and we are excited about the many changes being incorporated into Bergsma's over the next several months. We believe that with these changes it will make us a stronger independent merchant, able to offer our clients the quality products and services that they want," said Bergsma.

One of these products, for example, is C2 Paint, an international brand that Bergsma cooperatively owns. C2 Paint, as she explains, is a fairly young paint brand that is quickly emerging as one of the most innovative, high quality paints in the marketplace today. "The brand honors the virtues that were taught to me by my father: offer your customers the best possible product available. This is truly a brand that I am proud to stand behind."

C2 Paint, with its handcrafted colours and luxuriously unmatched luminosity and depth, will launch sixty new colours in the spring, and Bergsma explains it will continue to change the way people will experience colour. "This addition, along with the continual expansion of Bergsma's paint and stain product lines, window treatments, lighting and décor items, is a testament to the way we are continually innovating ourselves to be the place to shop for your home décor needs in our community."

Glen Oven Café

The husband and wife team of Steven and Jenny Humphreys have owned the Glen Oven Café for just over three years and have worked hard to infuse the café with their own unique details, such as having your tea served in a lovely teacup alongside a fruit scone. Their famous traditional English sandwich "Coronation Chicken," baked on their homemade bread, is one of the café's most popular items.

Everything at the Glen Oven Café is made fresh daily and on site, including their breads, quiches, soups (courtesy of their "Soup Queen" Liddy!) squares, scones and baked goods.

"I love that we make everything ourselves," says Jenny. "It is important to us to know we are providing fresh quality products to our customers."

This summer, Jenny and Steven introduced their breads to shoppers at the Inglewood Farmers Market, Acton Farmers Market and Allison's Farm Market.

Jenny and Steve are also beginning to expand their catering trade. They offer an array of fresh sandwiches, dessert trays, cheese and cracker and grape tray as well as vegetable and fruit trays and more.

Aside from their homemade products, at the Glen Oven Café you will also find a very friendly and welcoming staff behind the counter.

"We are so fortunate to have such great staff," Jenny says. "We really feel like a big family here."

Tom Allen (Muttley Crew Dog Training and Daycare Inc.)

Tom Allen has taken his love of dogs and turned it into a career. Tom is the owner and operator of Muttley Crew Dog Training and Daycare Inc., a Georgetown-based business that offers a variety of dog-related services, including training, walking and daycare.

Tom travels to his clients' homes so he can train the dogs - and their humans - in an environment in which they're comfortable. He also provides help in dealing with behavioural issues like fear and aggression, creating customized programs to meet the needs of both the dog and the owners.

In addition to these services, Tom also helps people find the right breed of dog for their lifestyle. Many people like to give dogs as Christmas presents. If you are planning to do so this year, save future trouble and call Tom to determine the breed that would best suit the family. Too many times the pet is the wrong personality and ends up at an animal shelter.

Walking is a very important part to a dog's happy life. A daily walk of half an hour is the minimum recommended. Having Muttley Crew's professional dog-walking staff come by to take your pet for some fresh air can ensure they are in a good mood when you are home with them.
