

LOOKING BACK

Tuesday, November 1, 2011

The Independent & Free Press Special pullout section

8 Pages

A look back at the year that was... in pictures

January

The Lambert family gathered $12,442 in donations which they donated to Georgetown Hospital Foundation. The family's annual light show, located at their 14 Johnson Crescent home, draws thousands of visitors each year.
Photo by Ted Brown

February

Left: Silver Creek Public School, Grade 8 students Jade Martin (left) and Bret Rothery found themselves buried in more than 219 pairs of jeans, which were donated to local shelters and charities.
Photo by Ted Brown

Above: The Pink-N-Dales stepped in to help at the annual Pink Pyjama fundraising event.
Photo by Jon Borgstrom

Walter Lewis, Halton Hills Public Library Manager of Support Services, gave a demonstration of the capabilities of the library's newly-revamped newspaper digital archive.
Photo by Ted Brown

Ed Wiener was among the thousands of residents who dealt with the first major snowstorm of 2011.
Photo by Ted Brown

Dufferin Aggregates was named the Halton Hills Chamber of Commerce's Business of the Year.
Photo by Ted Brown

924SB Walk-Behind Snowblower

- 24" working width
- Dual stage model
- Gear-driven transmission
- Button-press electric starter works by connecting to a power outlet

$1,099<sup>99</sup>

*Set-up and ready to go

1830SB Walk-Behind Snowblower

- 30" working width
- Dual stage model
- Gear-driven transmission
- Button-press electric starter works by connecting to a power outlet

$1,599<sup>99</sup>

14527SB-LS Walk-Behind Snowblower

- 27" working width
- Dual stage model
- Gear-driven transmission
- Power steering system allows operator to decide which wheel should drive for added maneuverability
- Button-press electric starter works by connecting to a power outlet

$1,749<sup>99</sup>

