

Driver dies in single-car crash

A 63-year-old Georgetown man is dead after a single-vehicle accident on Ninth Line between 5 and 10 Sideroads that occurred about 2 p.m. Monday. A Halton Police spokesperson said it's believed the man may have suffered a medical issue prior to the accident, which is currently under investigation by the Halton Police Collision Reconstruction Unit. Police did not release the man's name pending notification of next of kin. No further details were available at press time.

RIDE campaign starts

Halton Police will be launching its Holiday RIDE Campaign tomorrow (Tuesday) in Oakville.

Police have once again partnered with local students, business and community organizations for the sixth year to offer RIDE 101, a program designed to educate drivers, particularly young and future drivers of the importance and responsibility while driving and the consequences of mixing alcohol or drugs and operating a motor vehicle.

The program will be launched at Iroquois Ridge High School in Oakville and will be offered at Christ the King on Dec. 1.

During the daytime component police will distribute RIDE 101 educational information, provide students an opportunity to test roadside screening devices and put all students through a series of simulated roadside sobriety tests during a fun, educational format.

The night component will have members of the student council assisting police officers speak with drivers during a RIDE spot check and distributing "Think of Me" cards and information pamphlets on the consequences of impaired driving. The cards are hand-drawn and coloured by Grade 4, 5 and 6 students and reflect on that child's perception of drinking and driving.
