Register now for computer training sessions; volunteer tutors wanted

"A multi-generation workforce is an ideal scenario for most companies. Different skill sets and levels of experience combine to form an effective, cohesive unit. But it also makes for a wide range of digital competency. That is a big reason why the Government of Canada has identified computer use as one of the nine essential skills in the workplace."

—Canadian Business Magazine

Are you looking for work? How sharp are your essential skills? Need to learn how to use a computer? Your Adult Learning Centre can help.

Register now for our upcoming spring workshops "Essential computer training for the workplace" being offered in Georgetown, Acton and Milton daytime or evening. Free assessment. Small registration fee. Tuition is free.

Volunteer tutors needed

The Adult Learning Centre is recruiting for volunteer tutors for both daytime and evenings. We are looking for adults who can assist another adult with reading, comprehension, writing, math or basic computer skills.

If you would like to give something back to your community and can volunteer for three hours per week for a minimum of six months, please call the number below to make an appointment.

Please call 905-873 2200— information can be found on our website www.literacyinh.org

Literacy North Halton is a non-profit charitable organization #107782609-RR001 and is supported by the Ministry of Training, Colleges and Universities; United Way of Halton Hills; United Way of Milton; community agencies and individuals. This Employment Ontario service is partially funded by the Government of Ontario.
