Henderson tour arrives Feb. 18

Canada's hockey hero from the 1972 Summit Series, Paul Henderson, will be in Georgetown on Saturday, Feb. 18 as part of his traveling tribute tour.

The 40th anniversary of Henderson's legendary goal against the Soviet Union in Russia that clinched the series for Canada will be celebrated as a large truck trailer makes one of 42 stops across the country, providing visitors with a look back at that moment.

Henderson will bring what's considered the most significant piece of hockey memorabilia ever sold—the red and white jersey he wore when scoring the goal—which was one of the greatest moments in Canadian sports history.

He will be at the Mold-Masters SportsPlex from 1-3 p.m. that day and will drop the puck at a Georgetown Minor Hockey Association game.

Admission is free. Visitors are welcome to take photos with Henderson but he does not sign autographs.

Post-Christmas tidings

Joey Melo (13) of the Dodge Caravan Kids Bruins rings a shot off the iron behind Dodge Caravan Kids Flames goalie Alex Gombocz during the opening game in the novice white division at the Bob Goldham Memorial Christmas House League Tournament. Gombocz and the Flames held off a late Bruin charge to earn a 5-4 victory. For results from the championship and consolation final games in all divisions from the tournament, see below and page 3.

Close finals at Goldham tourney

Several final games were decided by a goal during championship day at the Bob Goldham Memorial Christmas House League Tournament at the Alcott Arena.

The 16th-annual GMHA tourney was last year named in memory of the Georgetown native who was a star defenceman with the Toronto Maple Leafs, Chicago Blackhawks and Detroit Red Wings, earning five Stanley Cups between 1941-56.

Following are the results from the championship and consolation finals:

Junior Tyke Championship

Timbits Penguins 9, Timbits Canadiens 5
