Robson returns as CVC vice-chair

Halton Hills Councillor Joan Robson has retained her position as vice-chair on the Credit Valley Conservation (CVC) board.

Robson was re-elected for a second term at the recent CVC meeting. She has served on the board since 2001.

Mississauga and Region of Peel Councillor Pat Mullin was acclaimed as chair of Credit Valley Conservation (CVC) for her eighth consecutive term.

Mayor Lou Maieron, Town of Erin, who was appointed to the CVC Board in 2011, was also elected vice-chair.

The CVC board of directors consists of 12 members represented by councillors from member municipalities within the Credit River Watershed.

CVC is accountable through its Board of Directors to the municipalities and residents in the Credit River Watershed.

These members approve and guide CVC programs and policies, and set its budget.
