Stopping by Woods in a Snowy Evening
by Robert Frost

Whose woods are these are I think I know.
His house is in the village though;
He will not see me stopping here
To watch his woods fill up with snow.
My little horse must think it queer
To stop without a farmhouse near
Between the woods and frozen lake
The darkest evening of the year.
He gives his harness bells a shake
To ask if there is some mistake.
The only other sound's the sweep
Of easy wind and downy flake.
The woods are lovely, dark and deep,
But I have promises to keep,
And miles to go before I sleep,
And miles to go before I sleep.

Donations to the Georgetown Community Hospital would be appreciated.

ARISS, Albert 2012

Remembering always an outstanding husband,
An amazing father, and a very special friend.
Passing February 28th, 2004

When you were born
The stars were dancing
In the night's sky,
And the rising sun
Grew brighter
Day by day
For people you touched
World wide
Throughout your life
Decades ago;
Until one day
You were taken,
And the sun left with you.

Thunder, Storms and Darkness
Overtook,
Sheets of tears
Failed to clear
The Pain of Loss.

YOUR EXAMPLE
Taught us to hold on
With strength and pride.
We work respectfully,
In honest dedication
With those we love,
If close or far,
And with those we touch
In our professional life,
Locally and across the globe,
THUS KEEPING YOU ALIVE.
