Hospital helpers

Through the generosity of Mold-Masters, Georgetown Hospital Foundation received a $5,000 donation toward the hospital renovation fundraising campaign. On hand at the company's Armstrong Ave. location were (from left) Foundation members Allan Kogon, Darrell Newman, Mold-Masters Americas president Michael Cybulski, Foundation chair Laurent Thibault and Foundation past chair Paul Armstrong. Photo by Ted Brown

Newspaper wins two international honours

The Independent & Free Press has captured two international editorial awards from the Local Media Association (LMA). Formerly known as the Suburban Newspapers Association of America (SNA), the LMA last week announced its list of award winners for 2011 and The Independent & Free Press' parent company, Metroland Media Group, captured 85 awards. The Independent & Free Press captured first place overall in its circulation class for Best Editorial Page (page 6) and finished second in the Best Wildcard Product (Niche Product) for the fall 2010 edition of Sideroads of Halton Hills. Earlier this year IFP photographer/writer Ted Brown was named a finalist for Best Rural Story in the 2011 Ontario Community Newspaper Association's annual award competition. Brown's story detailed the plight of farmers dealing with road rage. Winners will be announced April 27.

This deliciously goofy musical revue centers on an 'angelic' '50s quartet performing the show that never was. Nostalgic pop hits, tight harmonies and charmingly outlandish choreography make the "Plaids" a guaranteed smash!

Barefoot in the Park
By Neil Simon • Directed by Robert Woodcock
In this hilarious romantic comedy, a newlywed couple begin their life together while dealing with an oddball neighbour, loopy mother-in-law and way too many stairs leading to their less than perfect apartment. Adjusting to married life won't be easy but it sure is good for a laugh!

"A BUBBLING, RIB-TICKLING COMEDY."
