Makeup artist's work on display in film

By LISA TALLYN
Staff Writer

A movie airing on Super Channel this week will feature the work of a local woman.

Makeup artist Alyson Gough did the makeup and hair for the movie Webdultery set to air Thursday at 8 p.m. and at various other times over the next few weeks on Super Channel.

Gough, who just recently moved to Oakville, worked on the film back in 2010. The film was also in the recent Canadian Film Fest in Toronto.

The movie was directed by Charles Wahl and stars Kevin Kincaid, Anthony Cortese and Christine Tizzard and is the story of a dissatisfied couple who turn to adulterous websites and chat rooms to find that missing passion.

Gough, who graduated from Sheridan College's Cosmetic Techniques and Management program, enjoyed working on the film that was shot in Toronto.

"It was a wonderful experience working as the key makeup artist on a film that has received such high critical acclaim," said Gough. "I am looking forward to my next feature film that begins shooting in May."

That film is called A Gun and a Ring and also films in Toronto.

Gough also does makeup for photo shoots, weddings, television shows, corporate shoots, magazines and commercials. For more information visit www.wix.com/alysongough/Alyson-Gough
