

The Jeep Grand Cherokee Altitude edition combines a variety of exterior design changes to create a unique model with an aggressive chrome and 'blacked-out' look.

Jeep unveils limited edition models

Following an overwhelmingly positive consumer response to the recently introduced Grand Cherokee concept and related 'Name My Ride' contest, the Jeep brand has announced it will produce not just one, but three new limited-edition Jeep vehicles: the Grand Cherokee, Compass and Patriot Altitude models.

In January, Jeep introduced a distinctive, 'blacked-out production-intent concept Grand Cherokee at the Houston Auto Show, and connected with consumers to name the model. With more than 100,000 entries from enthusiasts of the Jeep brand—which boasts more than two million Facebook fans—'Altitude' emerged as the winning vehicle name.

The new, limited edition Grand Cherokee, Compass and Patriot Altitude models will arrive in Jeep showrooms this spring.
