Sign up to share your vision of town

An interactive Sustainability Forum for residents to share their hopes and dreams for what Halton Hills should look and feel like over the next 50 years will be held Wednesday, May 30.

Local input is critical to ensuring Halton Hills residents continue to enjoy an outstanding quality of life, and that businesses and neighbourhoods thrive.

Input will result in an innovative Community Sustainability Strategy. This Strategy will provide a 'blueprint' that leads to a more sustainable future, with the highest possible quality of life.

The Forum will be held 3-8 p.m. at Mold-Masters SportsPlex. Additional information on the Town's sustainability initiatives, including the Community Sustainability Strategy, is available at: www.haltonhills.ca/sustainability

"I invite you to join me in helping to shape the future of Halton Hills," said Mayor Rick Bonnette. "Your valuable input is critical to ensuring that the residents of Halton Hills will continue to enjoy an outstanding quality of life, and that our businesses and neighbourhoods thrive."

"The Community Sustainability Strategy will touch on all aspects of our community— from where we work, the quality of our cultural events, sports and social services, the types of businesses we attract, and the types of communities that we live in, to the health of our grandchildren and the preservation of our natural environment, and everything in between. Your participation is crucial to making sure that we make the right choices," he said.

The purpose of the Forum is to:

- Engage the community in a discussion of Halton Hills' future;
- Highlight the Town's sustainability journey and provide background context for the Community Sustainability Strategy;
- Verify and refine long-term sustainability vision and goals;
- Identify and define tangible things that support sustainability;
- Determine best methods to implement the Strategy; and
- Network and talk sustainability.

The deadline to register is May 18. RSVP: Damian Szybalski damiand@haltonhills.ca 905-873-2601 ext. 2289.
