

Sod turned for new arenas

Woman hampered by theft of walker

She has had the rollator walker—equipped with four wheels, a seat, and handbrakes—since last April. She said it cost approximately $500 and was funded through the Ontario Disability Support Program (ODSP) and Ontario Assistive Devices Program (ADP).

“I can’t walk a dog without it, I can’t go grocery shopping,” said Cartwright, who hasn’t been out of the apartment much since the walker was stolen.

She’s tried contacting ODSP and ADP to get a replacement walker, but she doesn’t think she will be able to get one believing they will only pay for a walker every five years.

Halton Police are investigating the theft and ask anyone with information to contact them at 905-878-5511 ext. 2410 or Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS (8477).

Sherry Cartwright, with her dog Charlotte, stands beside her van from which her walker was stolen.
