

Foundation adds $50K to hospital fund

At their recent annual general meeting, the Georgetown Hospital Volunteer Association (GHVA) presented a cheque for $50,000 to the Georgetown Hospital Foundation. This was their second instalment of $50,000 towards their five-year $250,000 pledge to the capital fundraising campaign for the Georgetown Hospital Emergency and Diagnostic Imaging Departments expansion and renovation project. "The Georgetown Hospital Volunteer Association was the first to commit at a leadership level to this important expansion project," said K.C. Carruthers, Executive Director Georgetown Hospital Foundation. "We are happy to provide our community hospital with the financial support needed to make dreams become a reality," said Marie Carney, GHVA President. "Our volunteers have always played an integral role in enhancing the care provided at our hospital and this $50,000 donation is yet another example of their dedication," said Cindy McDonnell, Chief Operating Officer at Georgetown Hospital. On hand for the presentation were, from left, Carruthers, Carney, GHVA treasurer Carole Hunt and McDonnell.
