

The U.S. National Highway Traffic Safety Administration and the U.S. Insurance Institute for Highway Safety have both given the 2013 Chevrolet Malibu Eco its top safety ratings.

Chevrolet Malibu Eco twice as safe

The 2013 Chevrolet Malibu Eco is the first and only all-new 2013 mid-size car to receive double honours for safety including a Five-Star Overall Vehicle Score from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration and a 2012 Top Safety Pick by the U.S. Insurance Institute for Highway Safety. Both are the highest ratings possible.

The IIHS tests vehicles to determine how well they protect occupants in front and side crash tests, in rollovers via a roof strength test, and simulated rear impacts to evaluate seat and head restraints for protection against neck injuries.

The Malibu Eco achieved a 'good' score in all four types of tests performed and has standard electronic stability control, which the IIHS requires for Top Safety Pick designation.

In achieving the Five-Star Overall Vehicle Score, the Malibu Eco was tested under NHTSA's revised New Car Assessment Program.

The overall score is based on frontal and side crash tests in addition to evaluation for rollover resistance. Under the rating system, performances in three test segments are combined mathematically into an 'Overall Vehicle Score.'
