Comedy/music night raises $1,200 to two Acton charities

Recently an up and coming local band called "Chase N Diesel" organized and hosted a night of music and comedy at Acton Town Hall. The event was held to raise money for the headliner band Chase N' Diesel (CND), with opening musicians Grainne and Cora Ryan, the comedic stylings of Dave Quinn and a magic act performed by Peter Kennedy. "Everybody had a really good time", observed Jenn Rossi, CND's lead singer. With the help of local sponsors and volunteers approximately $1,200 was raised to split between the charities. For more information or to get in contact with Chase N' Diesel, check out their website www.chasendiesel.com. On hand for the cheque presentation were, from left, (back row) Norman Humphreys (Acton Food Share), Alex Wright (guitarist), Clark Davey (drummer), Shawn Robinson (bassist), Kathleen Dills (Heritage Acton), Front row, from left, Sean Ryan (keyboards), Jenn Rossi (lead singer) and Mike Simons (manager). Submitted photo

Just the Ticket runs in Sept.

Century Church Theatre's Summer Festival continues with Nobody's Perfect

Century Church Theatre's Summer Festival continues next month with the second of three plays.

August 15 sees the opening of Nobody's Perfect by Simon Williams, directed by Jo Phenix.

When Leonard wins a contest for female writers, he is suddenly a very worried man. His love-at-first-sight passion for the publisher, Harriet, his wayward teenage daughter and rascally old father hilariously complicate his efforts to maintain the fiction that he is a woman.

Side-splitting moments and belly-laughs galore fill this wild and happy story, culminating in an ending that has been hailed by critics as a comedy masterpiece.

Trevor Smith Diggins and Linda Spence play the star-crossed lovers, with Wayne Moore as Grandfather, and Logan Barbosa as the teenage daughter.

The show runs August 15-26.

Rounding out the season is the North American premier of a new Peter Quilter play, Just the Ticket, directed by Neville Worsnop.

We meet Susan, played by Carol McCone, as she is leaving for a trip to Australia. When she made this trip 30 years ago with a group of girlfriends, they all agreed to return together. Unfortunately, Susan is the only one who can make it, so she must relive their memories, some farcical, some poignant, as well as her own.

If you related to Shirley Valentine, you will love Susan's wit and self-deprecating humour as you travel with her to recapture her dream.

The show plays for one week only, September 19-23.

All shows have weekday and weekend matinees as well as evening performances.

For details visit www.centurychurchtheatre.com, or phone the Box Office at 519.855.4586.

Tickets are $23 for matinees and $27 for evenings, all inclusive, or book all three shows for a 10% discount. Enjoy dinner at the Theatre (must be pre-booked) on the first Friday of each play.
