Man faces charges after fire investigation

A Georgetown man is facing numerous charges stemming from an investigation into a residential fire on Wednesday night.

Halton Police and Halton Hills Fire Department crews were called to the residence on 10 Sideroad near Winston Churchill Boulevard shortly after 8:30 p.m. They found half of a wooden deck attached to the home fully engulfed in flames.

Several small explosions also occurred due to the fire spreading to barbecue propane cylinders. The fire broke through to a basement window adjacent to the deck and spread to the wooden joists of the first floor.

The fire was quickly contained by Halton Hills firefighters. No estimate on damage is available at the present time and there were no injuries.

The residence, an old farmhouse converted into two rental units, was occupied by a Georgetown man in one unit and two females in the other. When the females arrived home, they observed the fire on the exterior of the residence and their neighbour driving away in his vehicle. He later returned and was interviewed by police.

Investigators from the Collision Reconstruction and Arson Unit arrived and took over the investigation. The Ontario Fire Halton Hills Fire Department responded to a deck fire Wednesday at 9 p.m., at a farmhouse at Winston Churchill Boulevard and 10 Sideroad. A local man is now facing several charges in relation to the incident.

Marshal was called in and a fire investigator spent most of Thursday collecting evidence. A report from the Fire Marshal determining the cause will not be available for several weeks.

After interviewing the other residents, it was determined that an ongoing neighbour dispute existed. As a result of an investigation into that dispute, the male resident was arrested.

William James McLean, 34, of Georgetown has been charged with two counts of criminal harassment, two counts of uttering threats and one count of breaching recognizance.

Early Thursday police arrested the suspect after he was seen getting inside the vehicle.

Police subsequently recovered a quantity of stolen property, which included a victim's purse, identification, and gift cards.

Charged with two counts of possession of property obtained by crime and two counts of breach of probation is Dean Gregory Bagley, 38, of Georgetown.
