EMS, fire department teamwork 'gratifying'

Previously, HHFD responded only to those calls if EMS would be significantly delayed, said the chief.

This year, HHFD has responded to more than 50 shared response calls, and in 25-30 per cent of those calls, HHFD was first on the scene.

"We think we can lay claim to approximately three or four saves," as a result of this program, said Marshall. "The beauty of this is not only are we responding in an initial way now, but the seamless and teamwork relationship between EMS and fire is quite rewarding and gratifying."

Marshall said the HHFD is now taking advantage of all the skills of the firefighters who have been trained for years to do this kind of work.

"It's really enhanced our capabilities as a community in a significant way," said Marshall. "There's a demand there and as our full-time staffing increases ... then the tiered response will expand in an even greater fashion."

Wards 3&4 Regional Councillor Jane Fogal said it's an example of Halton Hills making the best use of the resources and tax dollars that it has.

"The public should be very proud and happy that we are so well co-ordinated and using our resources so well," she said.

"It used to be fire guys sat in the fire-hall, and there would be accident, outside their door practically, and they wouldn't get called. Now they do get called and they're very well trained," she added.

Ironically that happened the morning after this meeting. An accident occurred almost in front of the HHFD headquarters and first to respond were firefighters.
