Passion, enthusiasm and positive energy fill Sustainability Forum

Approximately 120 residents, businesses, community and regional organizations, Town and Halton politicians and staff made the recent community Sustainability Forum a resounding success that will help shape the future of Halton Hills.

Filled with fantastic and bold ideas, valuable community feedback on the draft Community Strategy content and countless positive comments, the Forum developed community feedback, critical to ensuring Halton Hills continues to enjoy an outstanding quality of life, and that businesses and neighbourhoods thrive.

Ultimately, it will also shape an innovative Community Sustainability Strategy, a strategy or "blueprint" for a more sustainable future.

Mayor Rick Bonnette emphasized the need to plan well into the future by taking a long-term view, rather than short-term priorities. Participants' detailed feedback came through energetic small group discussions.

Speaking about the Sustainability Forum, "The energy at the Forum was extremely positive and the passion could be felt throughout the event," Mayor Bonnette said. "I am very pleased with the results and look forward to arriving at an innovative Community Sustainability Strategy that will lead us to an even greater quality of life."

Damian Szybalski, Sustainability Coordinator, said it was very rewarding to have such a broad representation from across the community and beyond. "We will be sure to arrive at a practical and effective Community Sustainability Strategy that we can all be proud of, thanks to the dedication of the Town Sustainability Advisory Committee," Szybalski said, adding the forum is a key milestone in advancing the Strategy.

A second community event will be held this fall to release the Community Sustainability Strategy. All interested residents, businesses and community stakeholders are encouraged to continue to provide their hopes and dreams for Halton Hills by speaking to members of the Town Sustainability Advisory Committee, contacting the Office of Sustainability within the Planning, Development and Sustainability Department, and by visiting the project team at various upcoming community events throughout this summer.
