Mayor's Ball – a fundraising success

Thirty-two thousand dollars profit was generated for the Town's arena expansion program at the sold-out Mayor's second annual Masquerade Ball in Acton on Saturday.

The Acton Town Hall Centre was transformed into a high-class casino with gaming tables – featuring fake chips that could be cashed in for silent auction prizes, a magician who turned a rooster into a plate of wings, and back, and entertainment by Acton crooner, Monty Greig.

Last year, the profits were earmarked for the Georgetown Hospital Foundation, and this year, the "Play at Home" arena fundraising campaign – with a $2-million goal – will benefit from Saturday's event.

"We exceed our goal by 25 per cent – it was a great night with people wearing masks and having a lot of fun – people played roulette and craps with play money and had a good time without losing any money," Bonnette said on Monday, adding his assistant, Nancy Surrette, deserves many "kudos" for organizing the event.
