

Bowling rivalry heats up TSN Pins competition

On Sunday, at Georgetown Bowl, a band of local hopefuls vied for the right to represent Georgetown in the TSN Pins Game TV series. The rivalry the past two years between Paul Chaplin and Brinley Hole had been successfully topped by Hole. This time however, Chaplin took the lead with 264 in the first game and never gave way. The closest Hole came was within 34 pins and when he rolled a 290 things looked hopeful. But, it was negated two games later when Chaplin came back with a 307. For the eight-game set, Paul Chaplin averaged over 251.

Gord Lane ended up in third place but his highest game was only 255. Larry Hunt's first attempt at these tourneys availed him fourth place followed by Chris Styles and Bill Lane.

The "Pins Game" series is sponsored exclusively by The Sports Network and the Bowling Proprietors of Canada. It will have a total of $64,000 each for both the female and the male divisions in the 5-pin and 10-pin game. The next final provincial round is still to be determined.

Basketball champs

In Wednesday's Independent/Free Press it was reported Stewarttown Stingers had captured the North Halton boys volleyball title when in fact the Stingers did claim the Halton basketball crown, competing in the Halton event this week. The Independent/Free Press regrets the error.

Easy wins for Bruins

The Georgetown Major Peewee "AA" Bodanis Bruins scored easy wins over Oakville and Flamboro this past week by scores of 6-2 and 9-2 respectively.

In Oakville on Thursday night, the two teams put on a display of hockey that merits no positive comment. Offensively, Jim Katsilieris led the charge for the Bodanis Bruins as he scored two goals and added an assist. Mark Aldridge, Duke Bouskill, Duane Erler and Jamie Stephenson all chipped in with a goal and an assist. Gavin Glaser earned two assists, with single helpers to Doug Sheppard, Blaine McCauley and Sandy Davidson. Chad Hughes played a very solid game in the Major Peewees

net. At Alcott Arena on Saturday, Georgetown overwhelmed a disinterested Flamboro squad by the 9-2 count. Wingers Aldridge and Bouskill each recorded two goals and two assists for the Bodanis Bruins. Katsilieris continued his strong play with a goal and two helpers. Erler and Glaser contributed a goal and an assist each, while Stephen Yurichuk and Brent Wilkinson counted single markers. McCauley added an assist. It was John Waller's turn to stand tall in the Major Peewee net.

Wins in Ancaster and at home against Chinguacousy will ensure the Bodanis Bruins of a spot in the Tri-County championship final.
