Rebels, Redmen off to Halton Open meet

Georgetown District High School Rebels and Acton High School Redmen took home second and fourth place overall team finishes in last week's Halton Closed badminton championships.

The Rebels were just two points away from claiming their third straight Halton Closed team title as E.C. Drury Spartans nipped the defending champs 22-21. Georgetown was not only gunning for its third straight title, but its fourth in five seasons. Meanwhile the Redmen, led by Dave Thorpe's winning of the men's singles class, took fourth in the 13-team competition.

But the ladies' team did manage to qualify three teams (six individuals) six teams for this week's Halton Open event, which is for Club and high school athletes alike. The Closed tournament was only for high school trained competitors.

Melanie Jans and Cindy Kallo took second and third in the ladies' singles competition, a similar finish for both in the East Halton championships. However squash commitments will likely keep Jans from this week's Open event.

The men's doubles team of Chris Cambouris and Mike Bosman qualified for the Open tournament by taking second in their class. Julie Purvis and David Scida also garnered a spot in the open tournament.

The ladies' doubles team of Sheri Nairn and Kelly Cotton narrowly missed going to the open tournament, taking fifth. The top four teams in each division qualified for the Halton Open crown.

Take A Look claims Free For All victory

Canada's greatest eight year old athlete - a harness horse by the name of TAKE A LOOK, paced to his sixth consecutive victory Sunday night at Mohawk Raceway in a

As for the Redmen, in addition to Thorpe's winning ways in the men's singles event, the men's doubles team of Gareth Marks and 9999 advanced by taking third overall. The final Redmen qualifier was the team of Chris Dunn and 999 Tibbitts who were third in the mixed doubles event.

All qualifiers went to the Open event, which was held in Burlington at Pearson High School. The top two finishers at the Open event qualify for the Golden Horseshoe Athletic Conference tournament slated for next week.

Canadian season's record of 1:54.3 in a $24,000 Free For All pace.

The win was his eighth in 12 starts this year and boosted his bankroll to $170,250 making him North America's leading moneywinning harness horse in 1990 thus far.

Trained and driven by Roger Mayotte (who is also part-owner) for owners mabel Fraser, Phyllis Warriner and Early Bird Stables of Mississauga, the eight year old son of Most Happy Fella has become a fan-favourite on the Ontario Jockey Club circuit - partly because of his talent and success and partly because of his age.

Race horses as the norm hoes just aren't supposed to peak on the track at the ripe old age of eight. Try telling that to trainer/driver Roger Mayotte about his pacing wonder TAL and he'll only smile and shake his head.

Mayotte had a lot of company Sunday night as Take A Look's latest performance lift all the fans at Mohawk shaking their heads in disbelief.

"He's just amazing me," laughed Mayotte, "he did all the work out there, and he's just so relaxed on the outside; he just waits for me to tell him what to do."

Take A Look keeps a busy schedule these days. He now juggles his racing assignments on track with stallion duties in the breeding she. Last week, prior to his fifth straight win on the year, Take A Look had bred three mares.

Take A Look is booked to 30 mares this spring for breeding.

"I think it's the females that are keeping him so sharp," joked Mayotte. "We're trying to make a career for him when he's done racing." The combination of his pedigree, determination and heart should insure future success in the breeding ranks.

Mayotte and his associates claimed Take A Look for $100,000 in 1986. In 1988 he won the inaugural edition of The Toronto Pacing Series. In 1989 Take A Look captured one of th preliminary legs in that same series.

Also in 1989 Take A Look was nosed out by Camtastic in the $237,500 Canadian Pacific Derby, Canada's oldest harness stakes event in 1:52.4.

Junior curling teams drop close contests

JUNIOR CURLING REPORT

Last Saturday, two Junior teams went to the junior bonspiel in Brampton, sponsored by Tenna-quip Ltd. Both won a game and lost two against some very experienced curlers. Team 1 was skipped by Robbie Wands with Tim Dowd at vice, Terah Santos at second and Kevin Spears at Lead. Wands lost his first game to Chingcosy C.C. 10-3, but came back strongly in the second game against East York with a victory 7-3. In the final game of the day, Wands' team ran out of gas against a very experienced High Park club and lost 14-1.

in such good shape all season, even with all its little "runs" and "falls". Many thanks for your hard work, Mitch.

Lucky draw winners of Blue Jay tickets were Helen Mizener and Marie Stone.

All in all it was a great four days and a round of applause was given to Bill and Marie who have worked endlessly all year.

Sunday afternoon was the family skate-off and then "the plug was pulled" and outgoes the ice.

Ladies, please remember our closing dinner on April 18 at 6:30 p.m.

The team of Alice Frazer, Ellen Burns, Theresa Smith and Enid Muir entered the 2-day "Spring Thaw" bonspiel at Chinacousey Curling Club, and were winners of the 2nd Event.

Have a good summer. We hope to see everyone on the ice in the fall.

Team 2 was skipped Deanne Bayko, with Paul Burgess at vice, Sharon Shapcott at second and Kelly Sommerville playing lead. The Bayko rink had trouble adjusting to the very fast ice conditions in the first game against Richmond Hill and lost 8-1. In the second game a steal of three points in the third end was too much to recover from, and the Bayko rink lost 7-3 to Brampton. In the third game the team played very well and defeated the East York team 5-4.

There were 24 rinks competing in the bonspiel which attracted teams from Toronto, Halton and Peel Regions. All curlers received prizes for their efforts and were treated royally by the host Brampton Club.

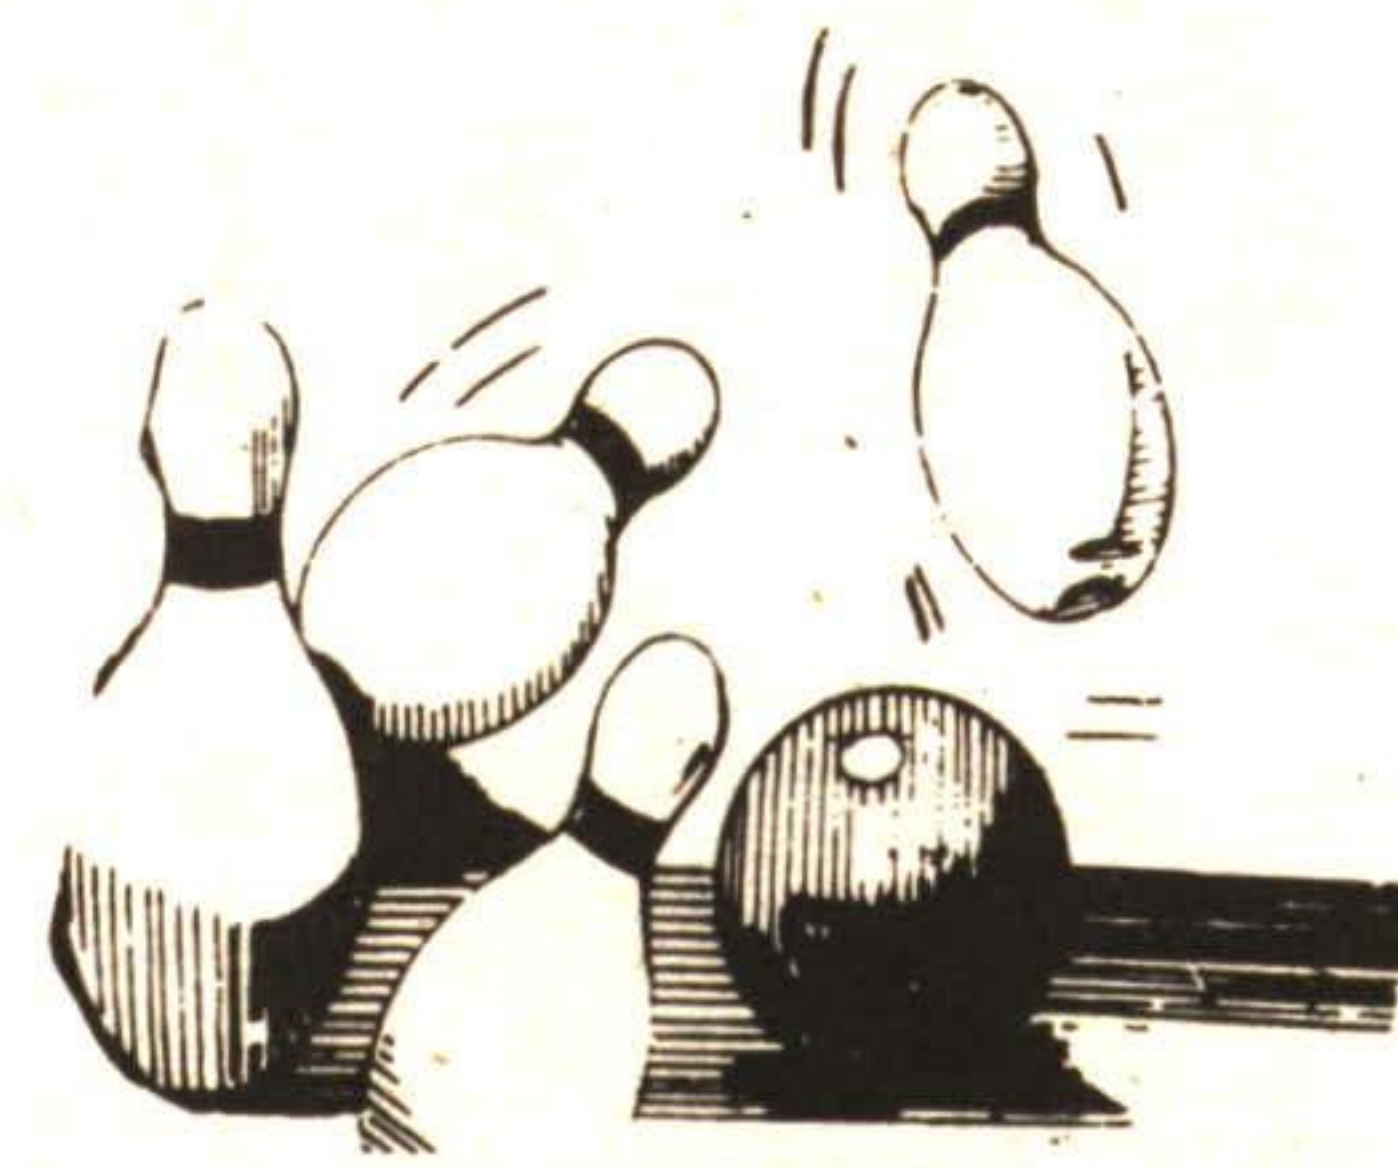

The North Halton Golf and Country Club junior curlers held their closing party and awards presentation on Sunday at the club.

Prizes for the last round of curling were presented with Paul Burgess edging out Brett Cormier for first place after both had tied with identical points. Third prize went to Robbie Wands, Deanne Bayko was forth and Sharon Shapcott was fifth.

Winners of the first round of curling held up to Christmas were Robbie Wands in first place, Sharon Shapcott took second, Deanne Bayko in third and Tim Dowd took forth.

Attendance awards were given to Robbie Wands and Sharon Shapcott for achieving almost perfect attendance.

The ladies decided to hold more bonspiels next year, attend more out of town bonspiels and encourage other to join. A junior executive will be formed to help plan next year's program and a greater effort will be made to get more participation at the high school team level.
