

Harmony Bull now in good condition, talking

By SCOTT KLINE
A month after the accident which took the lives of her mother and sister, Harmony Bull's doctors — and family — hope she will be moving out of Sunnybrook Medical Centre within the next two weeks. Harmony's uncle, Doug Smith, said the McIntyre Dr. resident "seems to be pretty good...she is bantering and joking with people." He added that the 17-year-old could be moving into the Hugh MacMillan Medical Centre to start her rehabilitation program July 12.

"Harmony is moving along quite quickly," he said. But he was quick to point out that Harmony has not been alone. "Her dad (Arthur) has been quite a trooper. He's been living in a camper at Sunnybrook." Last Tuesday, Harmony was upgraded to good condition and was moved into a recovery ward at Sunnybrook Medical Science Centre. "She had the tracheotomy removed and started eating pureed last Wednesday," Smith said. "She has also started talking. Harmony said it was very frustrating because she couldn't talk when the tracheotomy was in." Harmony was travelling with her mother Sheila, 42, and sister Amanda, 14, when their car was struck head-on by another vehicle on Guelph St. just west of Hall Rd. in Georgetown. Harmony was critically injured in the accident that took the lives of her mother and sister.

"I sat down a while ago and told Harmony about her mom and sister," Smith said. "She's had a couple of periods of remorse about it and I guess it will take a long time for her to get over it." The Georgetown District High School student was airlifted from the scene of the accident to Sunnybrook where she underwent a 12-hour operation to remove a blood clot from her brain. While her condition continues to improve she remains paralyzed on her left side. A preliminary hearing will be held Thursday in Milton for a 20-year-old Toronto man charged in connection with the accident. Scott Boyes was charged two counts of criminal negligence causing death, one count of criminal negligence causing bodily harm, possession of stolen property, possession of a narcotic and driving while under suspension.
