

Man and cop attacked

Halton Regional Police have charged a pair of Acton residents in connection with a Tuesday evening incident at an Acton tavern.

At about 11 p.m., a 20-year-old woman became involved in an altercation with the owner of the tavern after he refused to serve her.

According to police, the woman was being escorted from the establishment when she began to argue with the victim.

Another male, 28, grabbed the victim and held him as the female scratched the victim on the face below the eye. The female also bit the victim's hand, puncturing the skin.

The victim was the shoved to the ground and jumped on, the police said.

Officers arrived to break-up the fight and as they were escorting the male attacker to a waiting cruiser he "broke free" and ran down an alley.

An officer chased and stopped the man but was kicked in the groin before he could be subdued. He kicked the officer a second time.

The female has been charged with assault causing bodily harm.

The male has been charged with assault causing bodily harm, assaulting a police officer, escaping custody and being intoxicated in a public place.

Both were held for a bail hear Wednesday.

Tools taken

About $8,000 worth of hand tools was removed from a shed behind a Main St., Acton residence sometime between August 13 and August 20. The shed was locked at the time of the theft.

Pried lock

A VCR, two watches and some change were removed from a Park St. Georgetown apartment after the lock was pried open sometime between 2 p.m. and midnight Tuesday. The bedroom and the main closet in the apartment were also ransacked, police said. The stolen property was worth about $1,400.

Cars entered

Halton Regional Police are investigating a series of car entries — three in Georgetown and two in Acton. The Georgetown vehicles were parked in the Raylawn Cres./ Weber Dr. area and stuffed animals, personal papers and an ownership was taken. At least one of the vehicles was unlocked. Meanwhile, one of the Acton cars — parked outside a Kingham Rd. residence — had its convertible roof slashed but only the remote control for the garage door was removed. The second car - parked outside a Longfield Rd. residence — had approximately $175 worth of cassette tapes and a brief case removed.
