

Downtown Georgetown has the Yuletide spirit

Have breakfast with Santa, then sit on his knee for a photo session, then go on a shopping spree in the stores. It's all part of the Super Saturday Holiday Happenings Downtown Georgetown today (Dec. 8). It starts with Breakfast with Santa at 9 a.m. at the McGibbon. Advanced tickets only, at Fletchers Shoes, Oxbow Books, Penniesworth and Victoria Lane. Also announced on Saturday will be the winners of the window decorating judged here by members of POWER Fraser Robin, Rita Landry and Marjorie Kirkwood. Husband Harvey Kirkwood (in back) also joined the group. BIA coordinator Marg Vint conducts the judging tour.

Tyminski faces jeering crowds

Charges made by Poland's Solidarity leader Lech Walesa have made the Polish presidential election campaign a stormy one.

Walesa has charged that his opponent, Acton strawberry farmer Stanislaw Tyminski, is backed by former communists.

On the campaign trail Tyminski is greeted with jeers while hecklers cry "down with communists" and "down with Tyminski".

Calmly Tyminski has a mocking response.

"If you're strong enough to shout, why don't you use your strength to rebuild our country?" he said.

At the same time, Tyminski has many supporters, who applaud him and chant "down with Walesa".

Polish television aired an unprecedented expose of Tyminski's personal life on Tuesday evening. The program, produced by Polish Canadians, featured a neighbor saying the presidential candidate and his Peruvian wife, Graciela, have a troubled home life.

However, Graciela is reported to have come to her husband's aid several times during the election campaign.

The election will take place Dec. 13.
