Drinking and Driving

- in 1986 there were 17,590 motor vehicle accidents involving alcohol in Ontario
- 415 (2%) resulted in death of one or more people
- 9,148 (52%) involved personal injury
- accidents in which drivers have been drinking have a higher chance of fatalities or injuries

In Ontario in 1984, 83.4% of 628 fatally injured drivers had their blood tested for alcohol:

- 53.8% had been drinking
- 30% were more than twice the legal limit.

The average blood alcohol level of arrested drinking drivers is .16 mg%. Recent studies indicate that at this blood alcohol level:

- drivers aged 20 and older are roughly 100 times more likely to be involved in a fatal accident
- drivers aged 16-19 are roughly 400 times more likely to be involved in a fatal accident.
