Cuba, the largest island in the Caribbean is a land of wonderful contrasts. Hundreds of beautiful beaches line the coast that surrounds three large mountain ranges, deep valleys, and plains, rich in history and tropical beauty.

Cuba has a lot to offer you: colonial cities, valleys, topical fauna and lush vegetation. Five hundred years of history have helped to found a culture with its own special characteristics, which you can see in the cities, with their architectural and historical monuments, and in a wide range of artistic and literary manifestations, in which Cuba has attained great heights.

Explore romantic colonial cities, stroll around at all hours of the day or night, savor a Mojito at the Bodeguita del Medio and spend a memorable evening at the Tropicana nightclub.

Scuba Cuba... Divers who descend into Cuba's seas will discover a mysterious paradise. The water is warm and translucent. Schools of colourful fish flash by, adding excitement to an already amazing scene - sunken ships, cliffs, channels, coral formations and a myriad of sponges and crustaceans. The diving is excellent all along the northern coast. The East Havana beaches have a 300m long reef and eight marked diving sites. Varadero has cliffs, caverns, sunken ships and 23 marked diving sites. It also has Neptune's Cave, a unique inland freshwater/saltwater cave. Mayanabo has a 36 km-long reef and 11 marked diving sites.

Cayo Largo and Ancon Beach are divers' paradises.

Ancon the best beach on the southern coast of Cuba, is just 15 km. from the city of Trinidad. The beach is around 4 km. long, with enticing sand and sparkling water.

From Ancon Beach, it's easy to visit beautiful colonial-style Trinidad, with its many museums and romantic atmosphere. Trinidad is built around a series of large and small squares, the biggest of which is called Mayor. The city's sumptuous homes, with Carrara marble floors, precious-wood balconies and windows, and inviting inner patios - which, while not in the same class with those of Havan's mansions, nevertheless have their own special charm.

Browse through Trinidad's museum of history, architecture and natural sciences. Visit Troubadours' House, where guitarists and singers of various genres of Cuban music - mainly Canchanchara, an establishment named for the typical Cuban drink that is sold there: a mixture of rum or high wine with honey and lime juice.

Cuba's summer extends from January to December, and Cubans will be glad to share it with you. Come and enjoy this country of year-round summer-time.
