

Conservation areas celebrate Earth Day Sunday, April 21

Crawford Lake and Mountsberg Conservation Areas invites you to join in the fun on Sunday, April 21 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. for an Earth Day celebration. Wetlands, whales, wildlife and guided hikes will be offered during the day.

At Crawford Lake Conservation Area, highly acclaimed Waterwood Productions will share their theatrical talents during "We Otter Save Wetlands." Presentations are scheduled for 11:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Puppets and live actors will bring to life the magic of wetlands and the importance of their protection.

"Sensory" slideshows at 10:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. by professional photographer Andre Wenzel will be available to take visitors on an incredible journey along the St. Lawrence estuary.

Area encourages visitors to help our Mother Earth with special guided hikes. Spring wildflowers will be in bloom for all to see and hunt for amphibians and snakes.

During the hikes, visitors are asked to clean up the earth by picking up any stray garbage they find and depositing it in bags along the way. Continuous films and slide shows will be held in the Interpretive Centre as well as a discussion on live birds of prey.

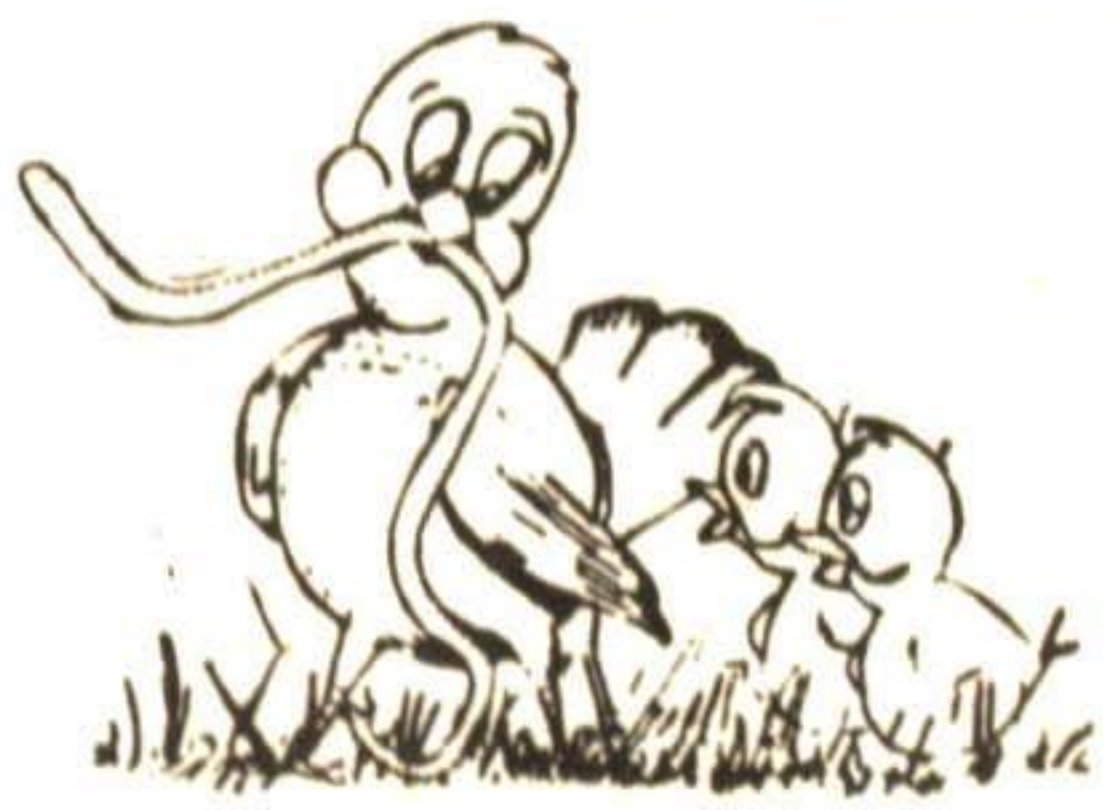

Lots of active learning games are just waiting for enthusiastic participants of all ages to join in. Wildlife relationships, habitat, ecosystems and human impact will be the focus for these fun group activities.

Other opportunities for the day include: conservation button making and scavenger hunts with prizes for all; environmental music; and displays and exhibits. A special blend of "nature's tea" will be served in the reconstructed Iroquoian Village with staff available to help you explore and discover all the fascinating aspects of the Turtle Clan long-house.
