

Crimestoppers Alert Advertising scam hits Georgetown

By SGT. DAN FARR

The Halton Regional Police and Crime Stoppers of Halton are bringing the following information to your attention, as a public service announcement.

During the first two weeks of November 1990, individuals purporting to be acting for a company known as, LABELLE TECH CO., of 235 Sherbrooke St., West, Suite 1611, Montreal, Quebec, successfully conducted a fraudulent scheme against 4 victims, in Halton Hills (Georgetown).

Advertising space, on fixed location, moving message, computer billboards, was offered for sale. Each victim of this scheme, was initially contacted by telephone, by a man identifying himself as John Maloney of Labelle Tech Co. This man then told the victim that a sales representative will stop by for a follow-up discussion.

Within the next few days a man arrived and identified himself as Gary Graham. This man provided a contract and signed deals ranging from $200 to $395 based upon the agreement that he struck with each of his victims.

Graham told his victims that the billboards will appear in a local store (usually a large chain style grocery store) within 3 to 4 weeks. The cheques were cashed but the billboards never appeared.

Halton Regional Police investigators have revealed, that although there is a Labelle Tech Co. in Quebec, it is a non-functioning company. It exists on paper only.

The contracts provided to the victims, were professional looking contracts, which also listed offices in Chicago, Illinois, U.S.A. The company that belongs to the address and telephone number listed on the contracts, are in no way associated to Labelle Tech Co. of Quebec, Canada.

The suspects in this fraudulent scheme have left the Georgetown area unidentified. They may strike again elsewhere in the region.

If you have any information that leads to an arrest in this or any other offence, you may be eligible for a cash reward. You need not give your name and your call will be treated with complete anonymity. Please call 1-800-668-5151.

The environmental camper buys a stove

For centuries the campfire has been the very symbol of an outdoor experience. I remember the first time I gathered dry tinder and sparked a flame in the centre of the fire circle I classified myself as a true camper.

But now, however, it is becoming more respectable to become a true "environmental" camper! My love for the warmth of a roaring blaze has altered due to my affair with the environmental. With the excess carbon being released into the atmosphere from the burning flames and the lack of fuel wood on popular campsites, campfires are now a thing of the past and pack stoves are of the present.

Pack stoves light up and boil a hot cup of tea before any experienced camper would even have gathered wood for a cooking fire, despite rain, wind or snow. Gas is more environmentally friendly and even the heaviest stove weighs less than an axe.

It's best to ease yourself into replacing a cooking fire with a pack stove. Head out on a weekend jaunt, equipped with pack stove, freeze-dried food and an open mind. Since I've cut down on evening flames I've got to witness amazing northern lights dancing in the sky, identify a few more constellations, and lost my fear of the dark.

Before buying a pack stove check such things as: burn time, boiling time, weight, ease of setup, ease of lighting, field maintenance and durability.
