

Community gardens ready to grow

The Ministry of Health's Community Gardens project is underway. Grants of approximately $10,000 are available to non-profit organizations to hire co-ordinators.

month as part of the government's anti-recession program, will provide funding to establish communal garden sites in communities across the province.

Co-ordinators will be responsible for organizing gardening activities and supplies, gathering information on food storage and preparation, and organizing related food projects.

Priority will be given to projects in communities experiencing the most serious economic difficulties. It is anticipated that approximately 40 co-ordinators will be hired.

The community gardens project presents an opportunity for people to work together to learn gardening skills, to improve their knowledge of food preparation, and to make healthy food choices.

Application forms for grants are available by phoning 1-800-268-1153 or by writing to: Paul Kopas, Community Gardens Project, Health Promotion Branch, Ministry of Health, Suite 1401, 700 Bay Street, Toronto, M5G 1Z6. Tel: (416) 965-9203.
