ReMax Bants win Division title in Bolton

Mike Adams' Remax Bantam Boys Baseball team played superb baseball last weekend clinching Division B in the Bolton sponsored tournament by defeating Hamilton, Kinkardine and Beamsville on overall runs earned. The Bantams have jelled as a solid, competitive group of young players who work as a unit.

The Remax Bantam boys played their toughest opponent, Hamilton, Game One on Friday night. The Hamilton Majors team were undefeated this season going into the tournament. Both teams played a great defensive game.

The Hamilton squad are noted for their great hitting ability but Georgetown's Graham Kennedy shut down their offensive capabilities striking out nine of Hamilton's best. Kennedy's effectiveness was backed by outstanding defensive plays led notably by Joe Stevens on second and Jose Mora on third.

Mora, in the defensive play of the game, snagged a hard ground drive, drilled an excellent throw to first and almost made a double out of what normally would have been a routine single out.

The Georgetown bats came alive in the fourth inning earning all four runs by demolishing Hamilton's ace pitcher. Shane Leslie, Graham Kennedy and Paul Ingram combined to bash out back-to-back-to-back home runs. Josh Petch connected for two singles during the close game but was left stranded both times.

Game Two was played early Saturday morning against Kinkardine, resulting in a 14-3 romp for Georgetown over six innings. Doug Sheppard led the team to victory smashing out a mammoth grand slam and going five for five on the day. David Bouskill contributed two runs after pounding out two solid singles. The entire team played excellent defence committing no errors.

The final divisional game against Beamsville became a race against the elements for Georgetown. Roy Stuckless smashed out a grand slam just before the skies opened up ending the game after six innings were completed. Stuckless' grand slam put Georgetown ahead of Hamilton in runs for and against thereby clinching the division title. Doug Sheppard cashed in three runs while John DelCozzo, Shane Leslie, Josh Petch and Brett Desouza chalked up one RBI each. Paul Ingram pitched an excellent game.

Georgetown battled Bolton for the Tournament Championship on Sunday afternoon. It was a much closer game than the score indicates. Our boys played an excellent game but the luck was on Bolton's side for this game. The Bantams never lost their concentration or intensity throughout the game. Georgetown got on the scoreboard first. Josh Petch cashed in David Kalbarski in the first and Steve Onoprijenko homered in the second to put Georgetown ahead 2-0 after two. Shane Leslie cashed in the third Georgetown run in the fourth putting the team ahead 3-2. Bolton got lucky in the bottom of the fifth and managed to hit into the gaps racking up eight of their 10 runs.

Congratulations go to Mike Adams' Remax Bantams who are the first Georgetown baseball team to make it to the championship round in a tournament this year. We are honored and delighted with your talented sportsmanship and dedication. Keep making us proud. The boys play their next tournament in Bowmanville on the July 1 long weekend.

ADAMS' REMAX BANTAMS OVERPOWERED

Mike Adams' Remax Bantam boys were overpowered 15-3 by Clarkson June 18. After the grueling weekend tournament, the Bantams played a solid defensive game but the bats were cold on the night.

Josh Petch cranked out two hits in Georgetown's losing bid. All three Georgetown runs were scored in the third inning. The defensive play of the game was a textbook perfect run-down by Scott Lahey, John DelCozzo and Duke Bouskill catching and tagging the runner between first and second.

Georgetown used three pitchers, Doug Sheppard, Shane Leslie and Paul Ingram, who combined to strike out 13 batters.

FUTURE STAR CAMERON'S STARTING LINE

dad, Walter Gretzky; Soviet superstar Valeri Kamensky; and the NHL's MVP, Brett Hull of the St. Louis Blues. The NHL stars provided on-ice instruction for about 50 youngsters from across Canada and the U.S. who won berths at the hockey camp held in Richmond Hill.

Akers Tigers win a thriller in Tyke baseball

JUNE 18

Jim & Pat Akers Countrywide Tigers 12
J.V. Clothing Blue Jays 11

Jays suffered their first defeat of the season in a high-scoring thriller. An active Jays batting squad counted for 11 runs, even against the 10 strikeouts delivered by Tigers' Brian Lipp and David Leverette. Fine catches by Lipp and Aaron Greer combined with RBIs by Preston White and a home run by Matt Rutherford to set the scene for Chis Moss' game-winning single which drove in two Tigers runners in the final inning. Rutherford, trading his bat for the mound, was credited with the save.

Halton Credit Union A's 8
Mike Reed D.J. Angels 12

Hits by Andre Borger, Chris Lahve, and Brendan Alexa fired the Angels' offence to an 8-1 lead by the third inning. In the top of the fifth, hits by Mike Ortlieb, Mike Madill and Jason Higgins led the A's retaliation to an 8-8 tie. The comeback bubble broke when Angels' Devin Legert drove in Kevin Becker on a home run. Angels closed the inning with two more, to secure the win 12-8.

Beaver Lumber Mets 5

Blake Leavitt Expos 16

Supported by outfield play by the likes of Rob May, Jesse Viens and Dan Whitton, Expos' pitching staff held Mets to five runs. Expos' bats, inspired by Jeff Meinen's second inning homer and Clayton Prucyk's two RBIs, rolled in 16 runners.

JUNE 20

Jim & Pat Akers Countrywide Tigers 18
George & Dragon Yankees 5

Fielding by Yankees' Gerrard Purcell, John Borg, Kris Noonan and Errol Smith backed up Paul DiMarco's attempt to fire the Yankee offensive with his three RBIs, but Tigers took Yankees with another team effort. Stops by Trevor McBain, Jason McNeil and Preston White characterized Tiger defence. Adam Szlachta's RBI and Jason Jack's pair of stolen bases were examples of the Tiger offence.

Blake Leavitt Expos 19

Mike Reed Angels 8

Classic fielding by Brendan Alexa, Andre Borger and Joel Higgins couldn't hold the Expos on Thursday. Hitting by Alexa, Borger, Devin Legate and David Assenheim - in addition to Scott Ellis' homer - accounted for eight runs, but Angels had to give up 19 to the Expos. Solid fielding by Expos' John Murray created the background to a Jeff Meinen-to-Adam Stoyles-to-Ed Alcorn relay which accounted for a critical out at the plate. Owen Blake's single moved Simon Ford to second, lining him up to come in on a Matt Sykes crack. Jeff Meinen produced another grand slam, accounting for four of the Expos' runs.

Beaver Lumber Mets 16

Halton Credit Union A's 7

A's mounted their offensive powered by Jason Higgins' double in the first. Additional hits by Nick Johnston, Richard Cunningham and Evan Lackey were supported by Mike Boyington's running skills and a key throw by Mike Ortlieb for an out at the plate. On the Mets' side, Mets' pitcher Nils Varga whiffed three for a quick inning, and Josh Osborne snagged a fly ball. With Travis Dares, Derek Lanthier and Mike Corlett hitting three each, Varga and Daniel Smith accounting for triples, and both Jason Hayes and Chad Gemmil hammering solo home runs, Mets found themselves easy winners, 16-7.

Woodworkers 'Advance' in Atom soccer league play

JUNE 19

GV -1

A5 (NRS) - 0

Good defensive exciting game, goalies for each team were on the ball. Well referred game by Grand Valley.

A6 (Mimosas Meats) 5

R3 - 3

Mimosas Meats played exceptionally well to put five goals past the Rockwood goaltender.

R2 - 1

A3 (Video Station) 2

Video Station led the game well into the second half when John Field tied the game only to have Mark Chumley hammer in Acton's second goal in the last few seconds on a solo effort from his own end. Acton's defensive strength from Michelle Smyth, Jennifer Norman and Bethany Booker pounded the ball out to their forwards all night.

JUNE 20

A2 (Super Sub) 7

A1 (Gordon Dawe) 0

Exceptional play by A2's Steve Barnes, Amanda Burgan and Thomas Mahon. A2 managed to have A1 pinned down to their own end for most of the game.

R1 - 1

A4 (Acton Town Milk) 4

Special mention to Meighan MacIntyre and Shawn Gray for exceptional play. Goals by Acton were Darren Banks 2, Danny Pursoo, Bobby Pereira.

ATOM

JUNE 18

A2 (Advance Woodworking) 4
