

A week ago Tuesday, the Sunny Acre Farms Midgets were on the road again, battling a determined Orangeville squad to a 4-4 draw.

Georgetown were in the hole early as the home team scored just 10 seconds into the contest. However a goal by Chris Barrow, with an assist from Sean Pearson, tied the score just over a minute later.

Trailing 2-1 in the second period, Barrow's second tally of the Sunny Acres fights to earn a 4-4 draw game evened the score and Tim Presswood's goal late in the frame gave the Sunny Acre group the lead. Derek Ellard and Brent Couling assisted on Barrow's goal while Mark David and Barrow assisted on Presswood's marker.

The lead was shortlived, however, as two Orangeville goals had Georgetown trailing 4-3 late in the third. Tim Presswood's second goal of the game from Pearson and Ryan Ward helped the visitors earn a well deserved tie.

The Sunny Acre squad will stay on the road as they journey to Vic Johnson arena to take on the Streetsville Midgets on Saturday night.

Minor Peewees hang on for tie

The Halton Hurricanes and Barrie's Irvine Carbutt Minor Peewee hockey teams tied Saturday's game at Alcott Arena.

Nobody was ecstatic nor disappointed with the 2-2 outcome, which resulted from the 6 p.m. game. But Halton coach Craig Wells liked what he saw.

"We're tough; we let down a little bit, but we played a very good hockey game," he said. "The team we played is a very good hockey team too."

Wells attributes the opponent's success on hard work, good coaching and the talent of the players: "They like to pass the puck, they like to hit... so both teams are pretty even."

Barrie coach Gary Orr felt the tie was "better than a loss," but his team's effort was satisfactory over all.

"We played good in the third period, but I thought the first two periods were kind of shaky," he said. "We didn't have a good start in the game until the second period. The third period was the only period I think we did well."

"We stopped giving away the puck in our end, like we did in our first two periods. Our defencemen were starting to throw the puck around the board without looking anywhere, passing their contact around the Halton sticks."

Barrie never thought it would lose the game, even during the first two periods, when spectators and game insiders generally thought otherwise.

After a very slow start during the first period, Halton shot its way to a 1-0 score. At 4:34, Jeff Seeds helped his team with the goal, while Adam Korolyk and captain Matt Peers assisted. That was the first and only goal made by either team during that period.

"They played more as a team today," Wells said in relation to his team's effort.

Halton continued its lead in the next period. Here, Barrie goalie Dan Renwick proved to be too fast for Halton's Darren Haydar, who tried to score for his team. Teammate Ryan Billingham in turn gave Barrie's David Deeves a hard time by giving a good save as well as Kurtis Rinas.

Both teams advanced into the third period without a new score, but Halton's Seeds gave Barrie player David Dwyer a clean bodycheck. He temporarily lost breath as a result of this accident, but as Orr put it, Dwyer was okay soon after he stood up and walked to his team's box.

Halton took another goal soon afterwards as well, with Bryan Long taking the shot. He was assisted by Curtis Hoogendam and Wes Blight.

Things really got exciting during the latter half of the third period, especially for Barrie, since that team finally got into the game when defeat seemed possible.

Rinas shot his puck into the net, but his work wasn't without the assistance of Jason Pickering. The score becomes 2-1, still for Halton.

Dave Hodgins took another goal for Barrie nearly a minute (6:22) later, with assists by David Deeves and Kurtis Rinas. Deeves, according to Barrie manager Larry King, was a "big centre who knows how to put the puck in the net." But his effort was needed only once, since the game ended with a draw for both Halton and Barrie.

The next Hurricanes game was played against Oakville at Memorial Stadium last (Tuesday) night. Chingacousy visits Halton at Alcott arena this Saturday at 5:30 p.m.

Minor Bantams tied for first place

This week, the Hurricane Minor Bantams moved into a tie for first place honors in the Central AAA league after playing the Killer B's - Barrie, Burlington and Brampton, winning three and suffering their first loss.

This was also welcome week for the Bob's Auto Minor Bantam Rookies, as the veterans honored them with unique haircuts ranging from Skull Caps to Mohawks. The parents were impressed with the artwork. Barbering 101's first test has been passed for these first year high school students.

The Georgetown high school Rebels are kings of the court in junior volleyball with a three-point lead for first place in the nine-team Volpe division. Reding has seven points, half as many as GDHS, while Acton has two.

slow motion to ensure the fans didn't miss a stride. Brampton outshot the Hurricanes 39-23, but rookie goalie Cameron Warden from Flamboro was brilliant, particularly in the third when he only allowed two goals on 20 shots.

Scott Bertoli led this match with two goals, two assists, followed by Darryl Loader one goal, two assists and Jeff Haydar with two goals. Jon Kruger netted one. Erin's Tyson Briden assisted twice, while Sandy Davidson, Fabio Pento and Trevor Kuhn set one up each.

BRAMPTON 1

Grossly undermanned, down to two lines and one goalie Oct. 12, Bob's Auto made turkeys out of Brampton who were able to almost field a full team for the long weekend match. Goalie Cameron Warden had no trouble holding off the Brampton squad.

Haydar potted two goals, with singles going to Bertoli and Robin Crawford. Single assists to Bob Wilson, Pento, Briden and Kruger.

HURRICANES 6
BARRIE 5

Veteran goalie Kevin Wilson manned the target in this shootout Oct. 10. Barrie scratched and clawed for every goal, as they kept tying the Hurricanes until the last three minutes in the game. Each side served 24 minutes in the sin bin.

Goals were well spread out with Pento at two, Crawford and Mark McPhail with one goal each; Haydar one goal, two assists; Kuhn one goal, one assist; Bertoli and Ted Roop two assists each; Iain Macintosh and Kruger with one assist each.

BURLINGTON 4
HURRICANES 1

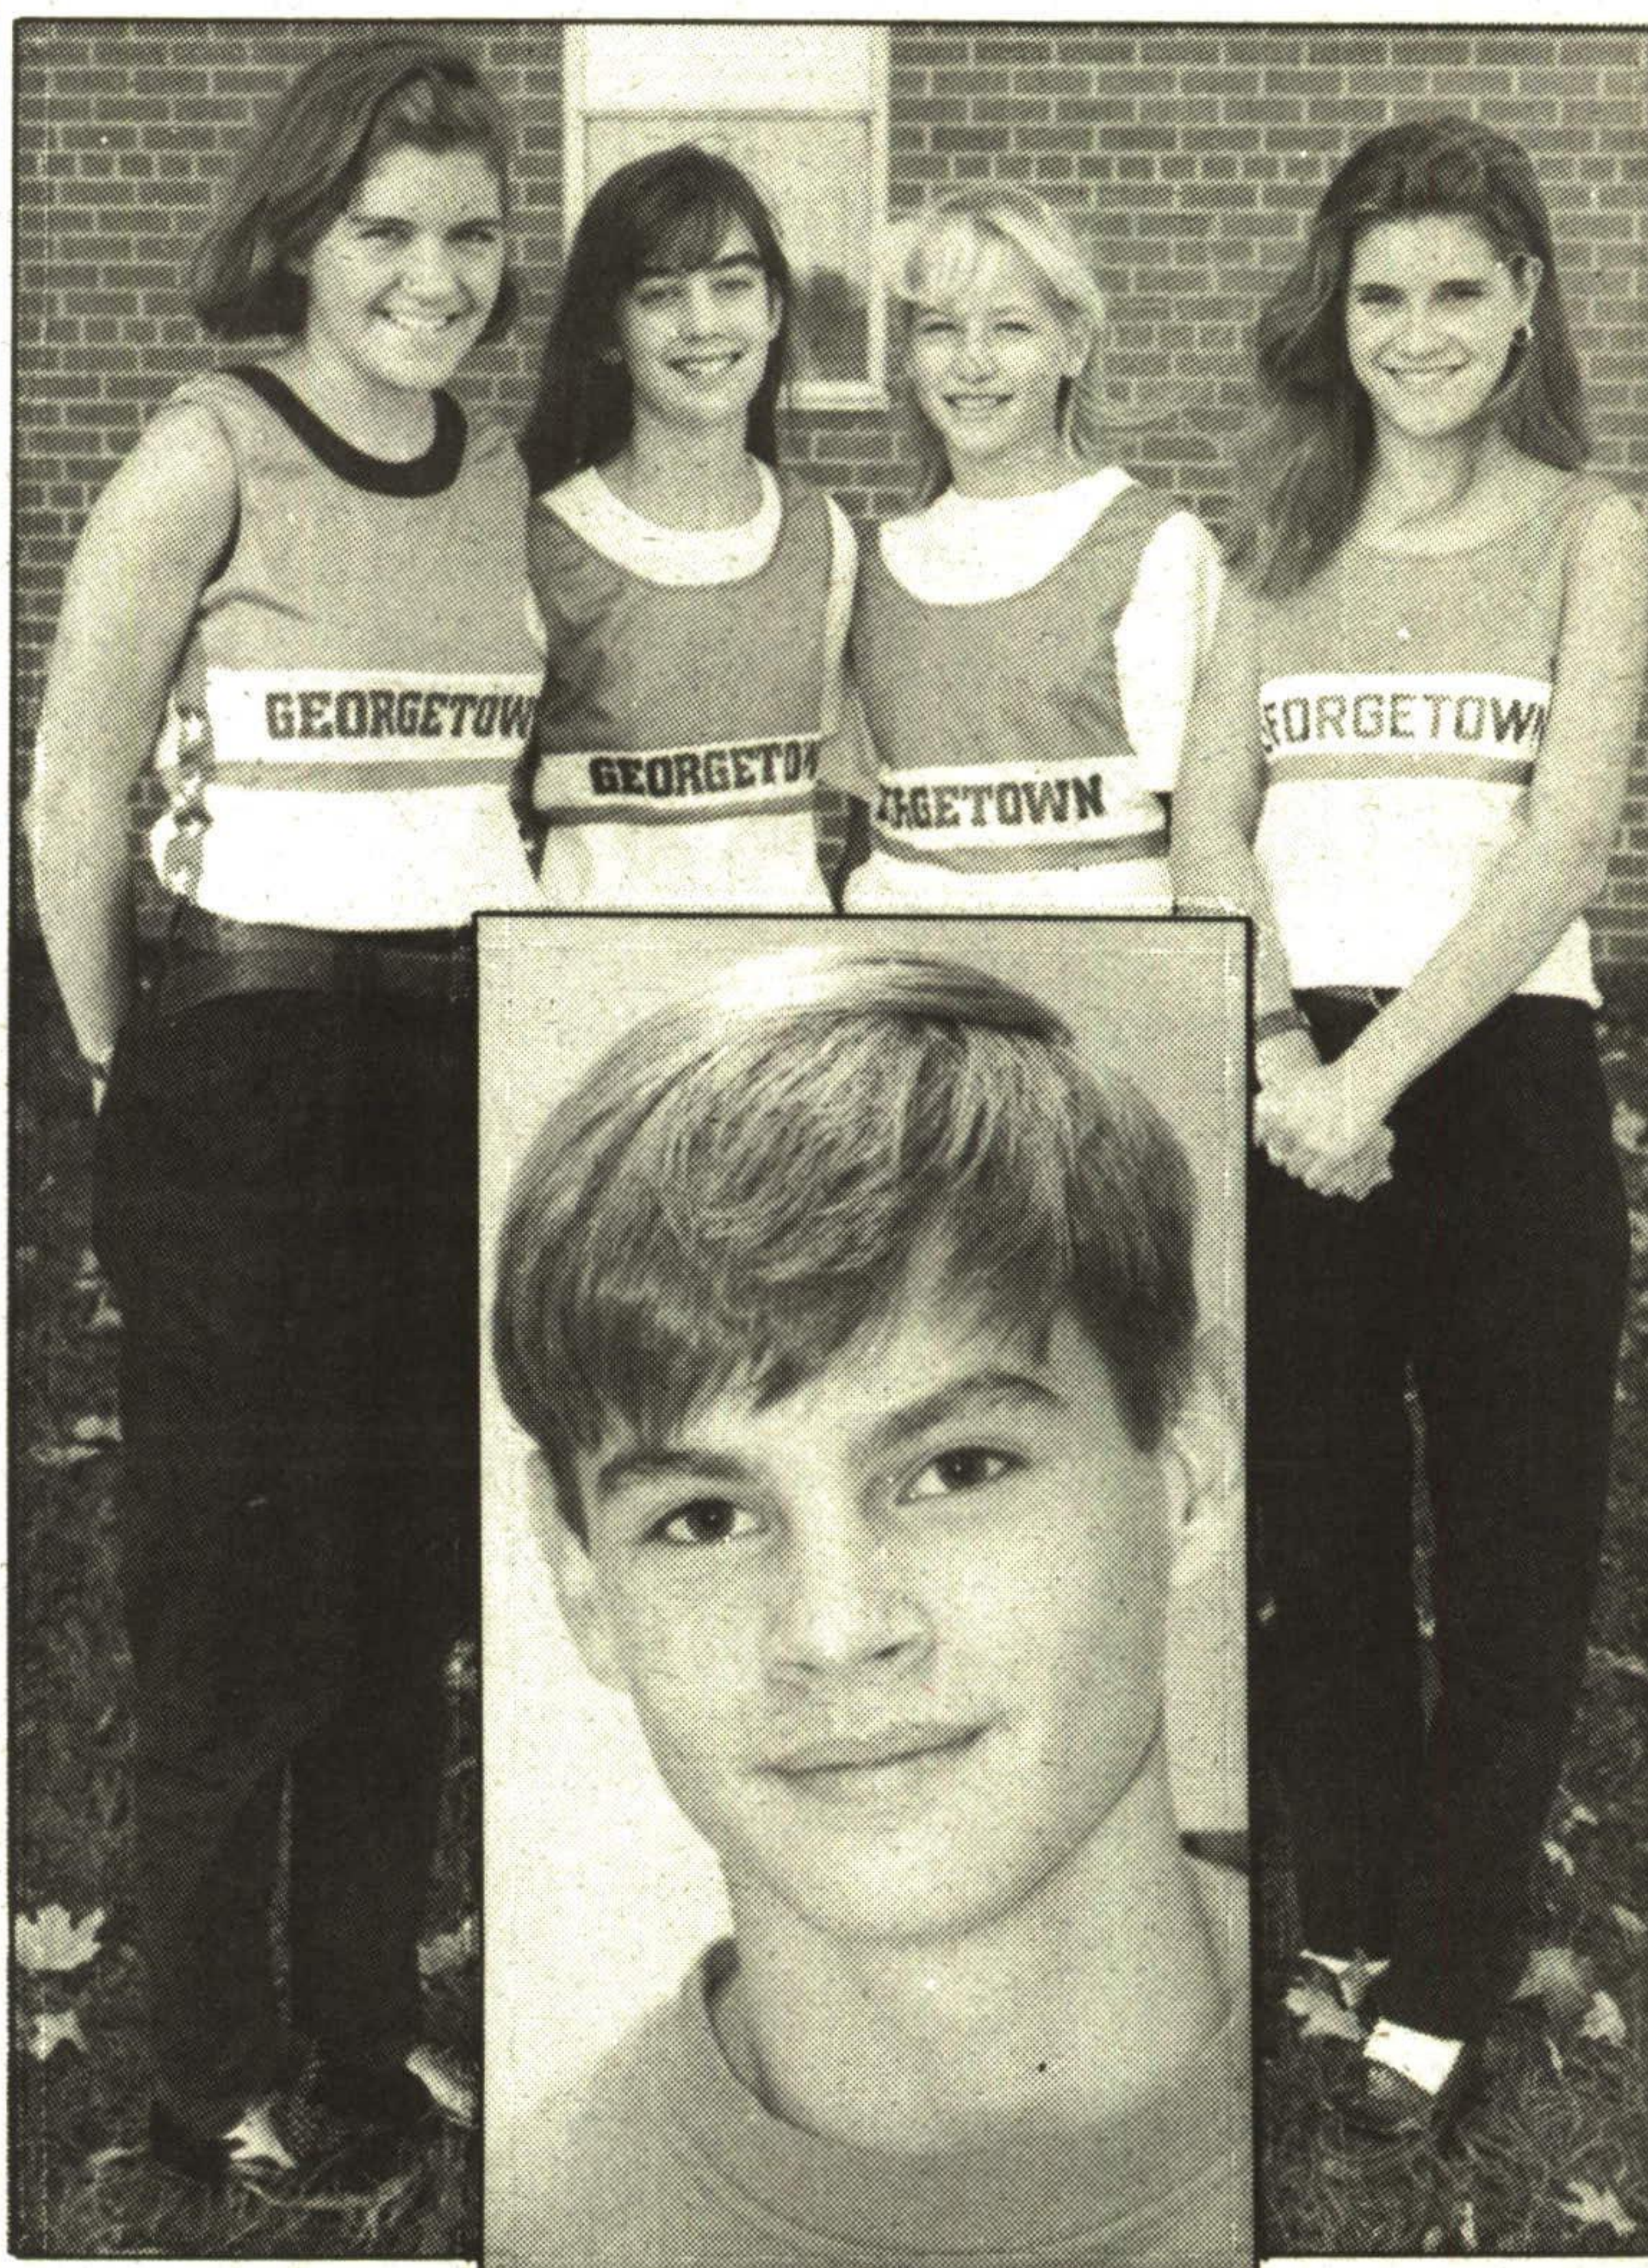

In their first league matchup this season Oct. 8, Burlington proved to be the Hurricanes' old nemesis, by handing them their only loss of the season. The squads were neck and neck throughout the first half despite many changes in the Hurricane roster, but Burlington pulled away in the second half as the Hurricane newlyweds' seams started to split. Burlington is tied with the Hurricanes for top spot in the league at one loss each.

Bertoli was the Hurricanes' only bright light set up by Loader.

Warden put in a solid effort in his first attempt between the pipes in an AAA league game.

GEORGETOWN DISTRICT HIGH SCHOOL

Athletes of the Week

SEÁN PEASGOOD may feel a bit like a thorn among roses this week, but the Grade 9 midget volleyball sensation deserves special credit as the outstanding starting hitter in all four games in the recent round robin against Milton and Oakville-Trafalgar. Meanwhile at Kelso, Georgetown runners were enjoying great results in the Halton Cross-Country Junior Championships. (From left) KRISTY JOHNSON was first, EMMA GELOK was seventh, ESTHER COPLAND was fifth and JODY JOHNSON was third.

Acton Rotary Club Juveniles chalk up two

Acton Rotary Club Juveniles gave Waterloo a 4-1 thrashing in an Oct. 15 home game.

John McLean, assisted by Wayne Bousfield and Eric Heagle, opened the scoring in the first period for Acton. In the second frame, Bousfield made it 2-0 off passes from John McLean and Gary Heinz.

Waterloo came up with its sole goal in the final period, but the Acton Juvies were there with two more: Sean Sears from Bousfield and Paul Westaway and Mike Gair from Sears and Heagle.

Last Sunday, it was just as decisive a victory over Cambridge, where Acton stole the game from their hosts 5-2.

Gair and Doug Crawford fed Westaway for the opening goal in the first period, but Cambridge tied things up before the frame was over.

In the second, Sear scored unassisted and Westaway found the net with help from Bousfield and Chris Reichard to make it 3-1.

In the final frame, Marc Jarbeau made good on a pass from Bousfield and Mike Kinnon and Gair scored off Kinnon and Crawford to wrap up the 5-2 win.

M&M Meats Novices off to great start

The Halton Hurricane AAA M and M Meats Novice team has jumped out to a great start in the Central Triple AAA League with two victories, one tie and one loss in their first four games.

In the first game against Oakville, Halton's youngest entry in AAA hockey learned a tough lesson when a concentration slip in the third period saw a 2-1 lead turn into a nightmarish 4-2 loss in less than two minutes. Goal scorers for Halton were Joel Petkoff and Jarrett Konkle. Helpers were provided by Ryan Inglis and Petkoff.

In their home opener the 'Canes came out much stronger and defeated
