

The Acton Proplastex Atoms were in top form at a Buffalo tourney last weekend reaching the championship game before dropping a 2-1 decision to Parma Heights of Ohio.

Acton atoms reach final at Buffalo tournament

The Acton Proplastex Atoms headed to Buffalo the first weekend in February for the Metro-Buffalo Lil' Guy Hockey Tournament.

The team is made up of goaltender, Andrew Coe and three forward lines which consist of centre Devon Fraser and wingers David Owen and Richard Raju, centre Jason Christopher with Kyle Artem and Brent McGuire as wingers, and centre Scott Monaghan with Kevin Dick and Chris Seads at his side. The defense is Kevin Denny, Chris Lee, Sandy Chapman and Mark Faseruk.

The Acton squad went up against Canadian teams from Goulding Park, Milton and Dunnville.

Against Goulding Park, Acton took a strong first period lead scoring four goals to Toronto's one. However, Acton was kept at bay until the last five minutes of play when they popped in a goal to secure a 5-2 win.

On Saturday, the score between Acton and Milton remained a tie until the third period when Acton lit up the scoreboard by adding three goals to their tally for a 4-1 win.

The Proplastex squad suited up against Dunnville to determine if they would go on to the championship round. The team fell one goal behind in the first.

However, Acton rallied in the second with three goals and eventually ended the game with a 4-1 win.

Proplastex Atoms had won a place in the Championship round.

On Sunday, the Atoms stepped on the ice to play against Parma Heights from Ohio. The spectators were in for an exciting game filled with many anxious and frustrating moments.

The feisty Parma Heights team took the lead in the first period. The teams seemed evenly matched with end to end skating and good man coverage leaving few good scoring opportunities. However halfway through the second, Acton found the net to tie up the game.

The Parma Heights team kept hustling and scored with 22 seconds remaining in the second period.

In the third Acton applied pressure. In the last minute the goaltender was pulled but, luck wasn't with the Acton boys and the team failed to tie up the score. Parma Heights won 2-1.

The Proplastex Atoms played hard and played well this weekend and came home with the Championship Finalist trophy.

Parma Heights' coaching staff and parents commended the team on the great competitive nature and their good sportsmanlike conduct.
