Hurricane novices battle Burlington

The M & M Meats AAA Novice Hurricanes got off to a great start in the first round of the playoffs.

The Hurricanes finished the regular season in third place, out of six teams and their first opponent is top place Burlington. The Hurricanes dominated game one of the series with a 5-2 win.

The Novices, who had never beat Burlington, surprised their competition as Brennan Silk scored first, early in the game assisted by Mike Knoepfli and Dylan Hardy.

Seconds later it was 2-0 as the forward combination of Jarrett Konkle and Joel Petkoff, and defenseman Jordan Jeans connected for a goal. Petkoff scored again in the second period helped by linemate Chris Alarie.

Burlington scored a powerplay goal midway in the third, but no sooner had the ref dropped the puck and Halton scored again. This time it was Alarie's turn assisted by Konkle and Petkoff. Burlington scored again late in the third, but again the goal was countered on a nice shot by Ryan Inglis, from Derek Mewhinney and Konkle. Fantastic defensive moves by Brydon Butterworth, Carter Trevisani, Jacob Vanderbreggan, Knoepfli, Jeans and a great effort by Matt deRee. Excellent saves by goaltender Josh Arnold.

Burlington won both games two and three of the series, as they skated to a 2-0 win, Saturday, February 1 and a 2-1 win on February 2.

Halton did not go down without a fight however, as we outshot them both days. Burlington's goalie was steady between the pipes. Game two's Halton goal was scored by Ryan Inglis with assists from Matt deRee and Derek Mewhinney.

Game four had to be the most exciting of the series so far, as the game was tied at two after regulation time. Burlington opened the scoring, at Georgetown's

Memorial arena and then added a second goal soon after.

Halton came alive in the second period after a goal by Michael Austen, assisted by Dylan Hardy and Brennan Silk. As the third period was nearing it's end, Joel Petkoff found the net, helped by

Tim Horton's leads novice pack

As the GMHA Novice house league playoffs quickly approach, the black and gold of Tim Horton Donuts are leading the way. Novice hockey this season has been much more competitive and is still quite close going into the playoffs.

Tim Horton Donuts is, leading the way but by no means do they have anything wrapped up yet. This team has played outstanding hockey in several games and even when losing they have given it their all. Although Tim Hortons has achieved their standing as a complete team effort two players seemed to really stand out, David Gibbons has provided much of the offense with 36 goals and Noah Malinowski has been stellar in net placing a 2.30 goals against average to date. This is by no means taking Jarrett Konkle and Brydon Butterworth.

It was the same scenario for the overtime period. Burlington attacked first, but with just 35 seconds remaining in the game, Petkoff scored again from Konkle, and MacDonald to tie the game.

any credit away from the rest of the team which consists of three seven goal scorers Matt Seaman, Chad Mitchell and Tyler Baker. The defense has also been excellent in most games and should continue throughout the rest of the season.

The coaches of Tim Horton's all agree that this team must continue to play as a team and not rely on just one or two guys. The coaches would also like to wish all of the other coaches in the league the best of luck in the playoffs and congratulate them all on a great season. Most of all the coaches would like to thank the parents for coming out to support their team and hope that their team provided lots of excitement to make it all worth while, and also hope that the kids continue to have fun.
