Lakeside IODE

New Regent Ernestine Foster opened the March meeting of the Lakeside IODE.

Not too many ladies were out on this beautiful spring night, just 13 and the hope is that coming meetings will be attended much better.

The bale for the headquarters that send so many things to those in need in the north will be needing your knitting/sewing and all the things that make up the bale. Please try to bring them to the April meeting.

The national convention this year is to be held in Regina on May 22 to 24 and although Lakeside IODE don't have a representative going they will send along the voting card to Mrs. Burgess of Guelph.

The effort across Canada for the Canadian Unity pledge was a great success. They had over 73,654 persons sign up and were very proud to have sent this to Parliament in Ottawa. Looks like everyone in this great land of ours is proud to be a Canadian.

The next meeting at the Legion is on April 7 and everyone is welcome to come. Join the IODE for an evening and see what we try to do to help others.

Our bake auction was more than a success with our two "auctioneers" doing a great job. Think of all the calories they sold to add to our money to help others. Thank you, ladies.

Bridge winners

Monday afternoon duplicate bridge results from the Georgetown Legion are: March 9 — first, Rene March and Karl Tobiasz; second, Harry Arbic and Bill Scannell; third, George Sargent and Doug Sargent.

March 2 results are: first, Mike Loruso and Rose Jacklin; second, Doris Barber and Adele Glavicic; third, Karl Tobiasz and Rene March.
