Humber College too tough for local soccer squad

The Humber College ladies squad proved to be too strong for Georgetown's girls as they fell behind 5 - 0 at the half, during indoor soccer at Soccer City.

Despite the difference in size, weight and age, our Georgetown girls regained their composure in the second half and outscored the opposition 2 - 1. Strikers for Georgetown were Mellissa Watts and Danielle Cary.

On March 7, Georgetown met Mississauga #1 team. Kate Blyth scored a hat trick and Mellissa Watts a single but this would prove to be insufficient as Mississauga #1 team trounced the locals 9 - 4.

Georgetown had a rematch with Mississauga #1 on March 14, but this time the bounces went our way and our squad won 5 - 2. Strikers for Georgetown were Taysha Brankiewicz with 2 goals, Danielle Cary with 2 goals and Marci Roy with a single.

The girls stayed and played an exhibition game against Mississauga #2 team losing 6 - 3 with Danielle Castiglione getting the hat trick.

The second game proved to be just as exciting as the Devils, still looking for a win, came back from behind twice to tie the game and were pressing for the win but as the final seconds ticked on, the Purple People Eaters' Kim Moore scored the winning goal to give her team the win.
