

The little ones brought along their parents as members of the Y Playschool group at the Oddfellows Hall in Georgetown exercised for the required 15 minutes to be counted on the challenge.

Halton Hills edged in annual 'Challenge'

We lost! The offices of the Halton Hills Recreation Department are practically in mourning after tabulating the results of Wednesday's Crown Life Participation Challenge against Milton.

"It was close," said Debbie Miethig of the Rec Department, "But they had the numbers to win, even if it was only by two per cent."

A total of 32.9 per cent of Halton Hills' residents phoned in to register for their 15 minutes of exercise, compared to Milton's 34.9 per cent.

"The worst part of the whole thing is we have only ever lost the challenge once before," said Debbie, "And that was back in 1987; and it was against Milton!"

By 9 p.m. Wednesday night, Halton Hills had registered a grand total of 11,695 calls from a total of 35,495 residents while Milton received 10,943 calls from their population of 31,300.

"But I'm pleased with the response from Halton Hills," continued Debbie, "This year has been the best ever for support from the people, the media and local groups and businesses. I think it's great how everyone worked together to meet the challenge."

As a result of Milton winning the challenge, the flag from the Town of Milton will be flown at Halton Hills' Civic Centre for three days, to acknowledge their win.

"But I'm not rushing to the phone to ask them (Milton) when they're sending their flag up," jokes Debbie, "They'll just have to contact me first."

Sonya Tonkovich, a grade 8 student at St. Joseph's School in Acton joined her friends as they jumped rope for the Heart and Stroke Foundation, collecting donations for their efforts.

The spirit of the Crown Life Participation was alive with students from Georgetown High School as they walked around the block and down Main St. South, first thing Wednesday morning.
