JOHN WRIGHT INGLE

Born April 16, 1916
Died May 22, 1992

John Ingle Travel Insurance and the Ingle family extend their sincere appreciation for the kind support and understanding expressed during the loss of Mr. John Wright Ingle - leader, humanitarian, mentor, friend and father.

Born and raised in Rockwood, Ontario, John W. Ingle was the founder and chairman of John Ingle Travel Insurance, established in 1946 and now expanded nation-wide with offices across Canada.

John Ingle began his insurance career selling health and accident insurance to Canadians and newly landed immigrants in the Guelph area. He developed advisory services for these new arrivals, providing much-needed health insurance, housing and employment information.

On behalf of the insurance industry, John Ingle provided recommendations and organized panel discussions with the federal and provincial governments during the introduction of government-run health insurance programs.

At the request of the university community and the federal and provincial ministries of health, John Ingle and his wife, Muriel, designed affordable health insurance for travelling Canadians, visitors to Canada and international students.

John Ingle's care and humanity extended into the community where he was active in Kiwanis, Rotary International and Boy Scouts of Canada.

For travellers worldwide, John Ingle Travel Insurance will continue the legacy as a leading health insurance company which advances John Ingle's commitment to service with compassion.
