Pretty Potentillas

This is a flowering shrub that is small in size, but big and bold when it comes to beauty, and it is easy to grow too!

Potentilla (or Cinquefoil) can survive in poor soils but does best in fertile, well-drained soil. When planted in full sun, this hardy shrub will flower profusely from June until frost. As such, it can be considered one of the longest blooming flowering shrubs. Each flower can be up to one inch in size, but the abundant flowers on each shrub produce a blaze of color.

Cinquefoil shrubs are available from white, red or yellow flowers.

"Abbotswood" is the white flowering variety, which reached a height of 3-4 feet at maturity.

"Red Ace" is considered a red variety, however, it usually fades to a lovely orange-red color. The "Red Ace" is one of the small varieties, attaining a height of 2 1/2 feet at maturity.

Many yellow flowering varieties are available. "Gold Drop" or "Ferreri", "Goldfinger" and "Jackmani" all produced brilliant yellow flowers on small, dainty 3-foot branches.

The numerous cultivars provide interesting color variations for foundation plantings, shrub borders, rock gardens and informal row hedges.

Each week Christine Cole of Tuitman's Garden Centre and Landscaping, Highway 25, 1 mile south of Acton, 853-2480, will be presenting helpful tips and information to assist you in creating your garden show-place!
