

Sewing club is 'creative' at meetings

Judging from the turn out and response to last season's meetings, the Halton Creative Sewing Association has planned more meetings for the upcoming year.

The mandate of this non-profit association is simply to promote and share sewing techniques and ideas for the women of Halton. Collectively as a group they can resource speakers and experts to come and show them what is out there in the world of sewing.

To date, the topics and speakers have included Betty Ann Crosby, sewing columnist for the Toronto Star, home decor, sergers, fabric painting, McCall's sewing the new party fabrics, and figuring out your figure to name a few.

Different workshops have been offered to provide women with a more in-depth look into different sewing topics and these have proved to be very successful. Working with knits, getting to know your serger, heirloom sewing, fitting pants perfectly, recycling jeans into jackets, and lingerie are some of the workshops that the women have enjoyed.

The meetings have been attended by 70 to 120 persons per meeting with women coming from Milton, Erin, Bramalea, Brampton, Acton and of course, Georgetown. Questionnaires distributed at the last meeting in June made it very clear that the women of Halton definitely want the association to continue.

So Halton Creative Sewing Association is inviting all persons who are interested in sewing whether novice or experienced to enjoy a spectacular trunk show by Creative Needle from London, Ontario as they present "The Fabulous Fakes" starring Donna Salyer's Furs and Ultra Leather fashions. These are the coats you've heard about on national television. You've read about them in Sew News, Threads, Vogue, Butterick and McCall's. See the latest additions to Donna Salyer's "Fabulous-Furs" along with fun and innovative ideas that will inspire you to work with these environmentally friendly fabrics.

Come and meet Anne Perron and Rozina Keer who are teachers, lecturers, sewing experts, founders of the creative needle club in Ontario and as Canadian experts have established a new Canadian distributorship for Donna Salyer's "Fabulous-Furs."

The Halton Creative Sewing Association will be meeting in a new place, the main cafeteria of Georgetown District High School on Guelph Street (Highway 7), one block west of Maple Avenue.

The date is Tuesday evening, Sept. 15 at 8 p.m. And the fee? Still remains just $4 per person.

There will also be an opportunity to sign up for fall classes. If there are any questions don't hesitate to

Emcees of comedy

Halton Hills Recreation leaders Ryan Brain and Kevin McMurray had the audience in stitches last Wednesday night (August 19) as they acted as Masters of Ceremony at the annual Rec Department's Talent Show at John Elliott Theatre. The show featured kids from all the camps performing skits and plays depicting summer camps throughout time.
