RECAPPING THE SUMMER OF 1992

Well its been a summer to remember. The spring was cold and wet, the summer was cold and wet, and now, September, it's 28°C and humid. This is certainly not what we expected! However, looking on the brighter side, it was a more bearable summer (no humidity), lawns and gardens generally looked better than normal and everyone's water and hydro bills were down considerably over last year. So overall the summer wasn't really that bad.

Damaged caused by lawn insects this year was very minimal and any damage that did occur, once treated seemed to recover almost 100% all on its own. This was very unusual.

The occurrence of disease in lawns this year was not unusually higher however, the diseases requiring cool wet weather did persist, while the dry, humid diseases were virtually non-existent. Once again damage to lawns was minimal.

So how many times a week did your lawn need cutting? Once per week just didn't "cut" it this year. Although this created a bit more work in removing clumpy grass clippings from your lawn, it also gave some of you (or your kids) some exercise.

So here ends another season. It has been a pleasure bringing you our weekly Turf Tips. We hope they have been helpful and educational. If any of you have any questions, any time, our office is open all year (winter hours are staggered); we would be happy to help.

Have a good winter and we'll see you in the spring.

Sincerely,

Duncan & Eileen
