Music group plans Spring Music Festival

By SHARON DUTTON

Special to the Independent/Free Press

Plans are underway by the Halton Hills Music Teachers Association to hold a spring music festival on May 1, 1993.

The association is pleased to have Victor McCorry as their adjudicator. All classes will be at the Georgetown Alliance Church, on Main St., south of Maple Ave. Vocal and instrumental students must provide their own accompanist, composition students must supply a copy of their work. Pianists, vocal and instrumental ensembles are also invited to participate.

Grade levels refer to the Royal Conservatory Syllabus, pieces may be chosen from any list. Entrants may not have passed the grade of their chosen class. If the class is determined by age, age is as of May 1, 1993. For classes in which music is "own choice," students must submit a copy of their music with the entry form. The student's own original copy will be handed to the adjudicator, all entrants are advised to play from memory.

All students will be recognized for their performances. Students demonstrating outstanding musical excellence will be invited to perform their selections during a "Showcase Performance." Entry forms and fees must be submitted by January 31, 1993. Please direct any questions to Sharon Dutton, 873-1177, Valerie Nichol, 853-4104, or Dale Wood, 877-1638.

What FREE, programming may I view with a basic satellite system?
 In review, a standard satellite receiving system provides the opportunity for you to view 18 C band satellites. Each satellite has the capability of delivering 12 transponders - 24 channels. Our review of the most recent issue of ONSAT, Canada's weekly satellite guide, concludes that you may choose from 186 FREE "In the Clear" channels currently listed for publication.

How do I view these 186 channels?
 In a similar method to the way you currently inspect "Off Air" signals on your antenna. These signals which land in your yard, are available to you simply by turning on your T.V. and pushing a few (as little as 1) buttons on your satellite receiver remote.

What programming may I watch on these FREE "In the Clear" channels?
 More at home shopping channels than anyone could possibly watch in a year, more religious channels than the most pious individual could endure, and some alternate programming ranging from sports to movies and every gambit in between. You may select to view one of the following channels: 1 of 3 Fox, NBC, the 24 hr. court channel, the learning channel, travel, cartoon, sci-fi, Global, CBC North, entertainment, French, TV Japan, the 24 hr. Canadian weather channel, 1 of 4 PBS channels, BBC News, Scola (news from your home land in 1/2 segments), NASA, Agrinet, The University Network, CBC (LA/NY), Warner Bros. T.V., PLUS 1 of 3 Prime-Time movie channels, and several "wild" sports and special feeds; to mention just a few of the channels you may choose to view on a basic satellite system.
